

HART WINS BATTLE AT RENO

DEATH ENDS A SONG.

Tragic Passing of Miss Julia M'Quaid in Niles Canyon.

Death stalked among a party of campers at Niles Canyon last night, and, without a warning, summoned Miss Julia M'Quaid, a prepossessing young woman 26 years of age, and a resident of San Francisco.

Sitting in a hammock and surrounded by a party of campers, Miss M'Quaid was singing a song for their enjoyment, when suddenly she threw her hands to her head and fell back in the arms of Mrs. L. G. Mallory, one of her campmates, dead.

The cause of her demise is a mystery, and will require an investigation by Coroner Mehrmann.

Seemingly the young woman was in the best of health, and was adding her share to the levity of the camping party.

Recently Miss M'Quaid and a number of other San Franciscans went to Niles Canyon to spend a few weeks rustication. They named their quarters "Camp 'Prisco," and were in the midst of enjoying themselves hunting, fishing, and tramping over the canyon—now death has hulled their enjoyment, tents had been lowered, and festivities turned into a period of mourning.

After Miss M'Quaid's sudden ending, and it was seen by the members of the camping party that she was beyond all human aid, Deputy Coroner Francis of Centerville was summoned, and he took charge of the case.

An autopsy will be held in order, if possible, to determine the cause of the young woman's demise, and then the body will be taken to her home in San Francisco for interment.

pounds, while Hart will get into action at 195 pounds. The men are to box under clean-break rules. The men will enter the ring at 2 o'clock Pacific Coast time. WOMEN PRESENT. RINGSIDE, RENO, Nev., July 3.—The fight for the relinquished heavyweight championship for the world, between Jack Root, of Chicago, and Marvin Hart of Louisville will be attended ed by about 4,000 people. These have paid all the way from $2 to $10 apiece for seeing the battle. There was a liberal sprinkling of women in attendance. The men stepped into the ring about 20 pounds apart in weight, Root scaling 170, while Hart weighed 190. The feature of the fight, aside from the battle itself, is the initial appearance of James J. Jeffries, retired champion of the world, who is to act as arbiter, for which function the Los Angeles boiler-maker receives $1,000.

ROOT'S SECONDS.
Harry Corbett, the stakeholder, is at the ringside with the clubs $5,000 in pocket. This is to be split on the basis of 65 per cent to the winner and 35 per cent to the loser.

The seconds of Jack Root are "Battling" Nelson, Teddy Alexander and Paddy Mackey. Bill Gallagher of San Francisco will hold the watch for Root. The seconds of Hart are Jack McCormick, "Dealy" Thompson, Jack Roberts, Hal Updyke and Lee Updyke.

Timekeeper, Albert Updyke. ROOT FACES SUN.
In the choice for corners Jack McCormick, Hart's manager, beat Lou M. Houseman, acting for Root, and selected the corner placing his man's back to the sizzling sun.

AT RINGSIDE.
Among the celebrities at the ringside were Harry Corbett, Jack Welch, Billy Welch, Billy McCormick, Bill Gallagher, Attorney-General Sweeney of Nevada, Sam Davis, Lou M. Houseman, Senator F. G. Newlands, Lieutenant-Governor Allen and wife, of Nevada; H. L. Bageley, "Doc"

TWO THUGS CLUB AGED JEWELER IN AN ATTEMPT TO ROB HIS STORE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—A vicious assault with robbery the motive, was made today on R. Mendelsohn, aged 75 years, keeper of a jewelry store on Market street.

When Mendelsohn had opened the doors of his safe and was distributing the trays of jewelry, two men entered. One stood in the doorway and the other began negotiating for some goods. Seizing a favorable opportunity the man struck the aged jeweler on the head with a loaded club.

The blow was a glancing one and failed to produce unconsciousness. Mendelsohn called loudly for help and the two men hastily fled, followed by a neighboring tradesman, who captured one of them.

The prisoner gave the name of Henry Shea and was recognized as a man who was recently exhibited to the police watches and detectives as a dangerous person.

WILL BLOW UP WARSHIP

Mutinous Sailors Become Bold and Sail Away—Crew of One Vessel Has Surrendered.

KUSTENJI, July 3.—There is much excitement on board the Russian battleship Kniaz Potemkine, where differences of opinion exist between the leaders, some of whom advocate landing in Roumania, while others are proposing to return to Russia and join the other mutinous ships.

The prefect of Kustenji permitted a delegation of the mutineers to enter the town and purchase provisions.

The sailors report that the Black Sea fleet not only did not try to capture the Kniaz Potemkine, but the crews of the ships openly rejoiced as the rebels left Odessa.

The crew of the Russian gunboat Psezuape now at Kustenji met some of the crew of the Kniaz Potemkine ashore and fraternized with them, the sailors embracing one another.

The Kniaz Potemkine is accompanied by a Russian torpedo boat. About 300 Roumanian soldiers are being concentrated at Kustenji to meet eventualities and the cabinet ministers are proceeding there today to deal with the situation.

Mutineers Surrender and Go Ashore.

ODESSA, July 3, 1:35 p. m.—The surrender of the Georgi Pobiedonostez was formally carried out this morning.

The warship's officers returned from Nikolaieff, went on board and picked out the ring-leaders of the mutiny and several of their officers, all of whom were sent ashore.

A torpedo boat destroyer and a gunboat arrived here during the night bringing Rear-Admiral Chouknin, commander of the Black Sea fleet.

The city is quiet. Many strikers have returned to work.

Turks Will Watch the Russian Pirates.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 3.—The Turkish officials at Anadoluakavak, Asia Minor, at the entrance of the Bosphorus, are taking precautions to prevent the possible use of that port by the mutineers of the Kniaz Potemkine.

The Turks will not permit the battleship to pass through the Bosphorus after sunset.

They even stopped the Russian guardship at Constantinople with a blank shot when returning with Ambassador Zinovieff after a short cruise in the Black Sea. M. Zinovieff landed and proceeded to Constantinople, but the guardship was held until morning.

Crew of Cruiser Refuses to Put to Sea.

CRONSTADT, July 3.—The crew of the Russian cruiser Minine refused to put to sea with the other vessels of the squadron, alleging a general bad condition of the ship prevented her participation in gun practice and maneuvering. The ring-leaders of this mutiny were arrested and the Minine is now anchored in the roadstead.

Confirms Report of the Surrender.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The State Department has received a cablegram from Ambassador Meyer at St. Petersburg saying that Consul Heenan at Odessa reports that the battleship Georgi Pobiedonostez has surrendered and is now in the hands of the authorities. The report also announces that the Kniaz Potemkine left Odessa Saturday afternoon headed southward.

TOWN IS QUIET.

LONDON, July 3.—A private telegram received here today from Odessa says the town is quiet.

Cruiser Fires on a Torpedo Boat.

KUSTENJI, July 3.—The Russian torpedo boat accompanying the Kniaz Potemkine attempted to enter the port of Kustenji today. The Roumanian cruiser Elibetha fired on the torpedo boat, but failed to hit her. The torpedo boat then retired.

Merely a Pretext for the Revolt.

BUCHAREST, Russia, July 3.—Major Negru, the military commandant at Kustenji reports that he was received on board the Kniaz Potemkine by an engineer cadet attended by a numerous guard. The cadet informed him that the murder of the seaman Omiltchuk was merely a pretext for the revolt, all having been previously arranged.

Report Made That Port is Closed.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 3, 7:40 p. m.—Late this evening a rumor was current here that the port of Cronstadt had been closed to foreign shipping and that all commercial vessels there had been ordered to St. Petersburg. No confirmation of the report was obtainable.

Will Try to Torpedo the Battleship.

ODESSA, July 3.—The Russian torpedo boat Smetlivy, manned by a volunteer crew, has left this port to search for and attempt to torpedo the battleship Kniaz Potemkine, last reported in the hands of its mutinous crew at Kustenji, Roumania.

Extra Heats for the Thames Cup

HENLEY, England, July 3.—Owing to the large number of entries in the regatta this week, extra heats for the Thames Cup and extra heats for the Diamond Cup.

TOPEKA NATIONAL BANK CLOSES DOORS.

Trouble Caused Through Loaning Too Largely to One Borrower.

TOPEKA, Kansas, July 3.—The First National Bank of Topeka, of which C. J. Devlin held the majority of stock, failed to open its doors this morning. The Government officials are making an examination of the bank's affairs today, but will give out no statement. Three or four hundred depositors were in line. There has also been a run on the Central National Bank, of which Mr. Devlin owns a large number of shares. On the door of the First National Bank appears this notice:

"This bank is closed by my order. The controller of the currency has been communicated with and will send an examiner, who will make statement."

"W. H. ROSSINGTON, Vice-President."

CASH FOR RUN.

Cash to the amount of $300,000 was deposited in the Central National to offset the run. J. W. Gleed said today that $700,000 worth of real estate, $300,000 unincumbered Topeka property, and $400,000 in coal lands in southeast Kansas had been turned in by Mr. Devlin; also $700,000 in life insurance. Mr. Gleed says the Central National is perfectly solvent.

In the close in the bank the State of Kansas has over $500,000 in deposits, the City of Topeka $29,000, and the county of Shawnee about $30,000.

FORM CORPORATION.

KANSAS CITY, July 3.—C. J. Devlin was generally credited with being one of the wealthiest men in Kansas. He was at the head of twenty different companies, coal mining enterprises and industrial investments, and for many years has been well known in the Southwest. It is stated that because of Mr. Devlin's illness, the result of overwork, it had been decided to form a corporation to cover all his property, worth in the aggregate, it is said, $7,000,000. This action was deemed necessary because of Mr. Devlin's inability to longer direct his interests.

On Saturday a corporation known as the Devlin Mining, Mercantile and Manufacturing Company, was organized at Kansas City by Mr. Devlin's associates. The capital stock of the company was placed at one million dollars, divided into 10,000 shares of $100 each, which was subscribed and paid. The holders are all prominent men in southwestern Kansas affairs, and are as follows:

Landrum R. Ridge, Kansas City, 9,955 shares; J. W. Gleed, attorney for the Central National Bank of Topeka, one share; Charles A. Loomis, of the City National Bank of Kansas City, one share; Clifford Histed, Kansas City, attorney for Mr. and Mrs. Devlin, one share; C. J. Lanby, Strong City, Kansas, a director of the First National Bank of Topeka, one share.

HIRE SPECIAL TRAIN.

As soon as the corporation papers were drawn up a special train was hired and the papers and directors were hurried to Jefferson City, where the papers were hastily filed with the Secretary of State.

Yesterday a conference of the Topeka and Kansas City people interested in Mr. Devlin's affairs was held at Kansas City, and at its close last month was announced that the large amount of money needed to keep the Devlin properties intact was raised. Several thousand dollars has been telegraphed to Topeka to offset an anticipated run on Topeka banks in which Mr. Devlin holds stock. This sum was subscribed by the different bankers present.

The following named banks were represented at the conference: The Corn Exchange Bank of Chicago; the Continental Bank of Chicago; the Central Trust Company of Chicago; the American National Bank of Kansas City; the City National Bank of Kansas City; the Central National Bank of Topeka; and the First National Bank of Topeka.

DEVLIN'S WEALTH.

Mr. Devlin's wealth is largely in coal mining property in Southern Kansas, in the vicinity of Marcelline Mo., and in Illinois. These properties include the following: Mount Carmel coal mines, Toluca coal mines, the Marquette Third Vein mines, Devlin Coal Company, the Devlin-Miller Coal Company, the Buford County Mining Company, the Pittsburg and Midway Coal Company, the Kansas City Coal and Coke Company, the Southwestern Coal Company, the Wiley Coal Company and the Marcelline coal Company. Mr. Devlin also owns a number of large coal yards in Kansas City. He is a stockholder in twenty-five banks, his bank stock, it is estimated, amounting to probably one million dollars.

Another property owned by Mr. Devlin is the Toluca, Marquette and Northern Railroad, a coal-carrying line forty-two miles long, which connects with the larger roads in Kansas. Charles S. Gleed, of Topeka, general manager of the Missouri Life Insurance Company, and for many years a business associate of Mr. Devlin's, says:

SEVEN MILLIONS.

"Mr. Devlin's assets amount to about seven millions of dollars, and his liabilities do not exceed two millions. These liabilities are in the different companies he controls. His largest personal liability probably is the premium of his life insurance policies, which amount to $150,000 a year, as he carries about a million and a half of life insurance."

Mr. Devlin was born in St. Louis fifty-four years ago. He at different times has had the management of coal properties of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, and the Great Northern road.

TOPEKA, July 3.—The report of the condition of the First National Bank of Topeka, Kansas, at the close of business, May 29, 1905, showed resources and liabilities amounting to $2,351,304. Individual deposits subject to check were $1,226,945, and demand certificates of deposit $350,958.

MAKES A STATEMENT.

TOPEKA, July 3.—Vice-President Rossington, who declined to make a statement at this time regarding the affairs of the First National Bank, said:

"The trouble has been brought about purely through loaning too largely to one borrower."

Major William Sims, president of the First National Bank, has not been in charge of the bank for several years because of illness, and C. E. Hawley, the cashier, is confined at his home, ill with some nervous disease.

A large amount of securities, it is said, have been brought into the bank within the past few days, as it was anticipated that enough cash would be on hand this morning to pay off depositors. The money did not materialize, however.

Mr. Devlin, who has been under a physician's care, was unable to leave his home today. He was up and around, however, and in the best of spirits. His physician thought that Mr. Devlin would be able to return to the bank in about a week.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The Controller of the Currency has appointed National Bank Examiner J. T. Bradley receiver of the First National Bank of Topeka, Kansas, upon receipt of advice from the president of the bank that its doors had been closed.

DISTINGUISHED MAN IN SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—One of the distinguished guests at the St. Francis Hotel is Dr. Morton Urbach of Prague, Bohemia, who is an inspector in the service of the Netherlands in the island of Java. He is awaiting the departure of the Mauchina on which he will return to his post. The doctor took a flying visit to San Francisco to meet his daughter, who is making a trip around the world, and will sail with her father to his station in Java.

Dr. Urbach not only has the health of a lion, but also a trip around the world, and will sail with her father to his station in Java.

SECRETARY HAY'S BODY RESTS IN STATE

Flower-Covered Casket Given Place of Honor in Auditorium at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 3.—Covered by palms and wreaths of roses and blossoms of the sweet pea, the casket containing the body of John Hay was at 11 o'clock this morning placed in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce, where it will remain under military guard until 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, when it will be taken to Wade Chapel, in Lakeview cemetery, for the last services that it is possible for his family and countrymen to render to his memory.

The train which brought the body of Mr. Hay to Cleveland was the Lake Shore limited, due in this city at 6:55. At the little suburb of Glenview, five miles from this city, where Samuel Mather, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Hay, resides, a stop was made and the funeral car, together with the car in which the members of the Hay family had traveled, were detached from the train and placed on a siding. There was nobody at the station when the train arrived save two or three railroad employes and a few newspaper men.

SECRETARY'S WIDOW.

The first person to alight from the car was Mr. Mather, who was followed closely by Mrs. Mather, and then came Mrs. Hay, heavily veiled. She walked alone, requiring no assistance. Two automobiles were awaiting the arrival of the party and no time was lost in dashing for the residence of Mr. Mather, which is situated about one mile from the station. The two automobiles swept away from the station in a cloud of dust, leaving the funeral car in charge of Conductor John S. Pitcher, of the Boston & Maine Railway, who had come through with the train from Newbury, N. H.

The train remained in Glenview until 10 o'clock, when, in charge of officials of the Lake Shore road, and unaccompanied by any members of the Hay family, all of whom remained at the residence of Mr. Mather, it was run down to the union depot in this city, arriving at 10:15.

Awaiting the arrival of the funeral train in the depot were the members of the committee appointed at last night's meeting in the Chamber of Commerce.

MILITARY ESCORT.

Drawn up outside the depot was the restless line of cavalry, Cleveland's famous troop "A," under the command of Captain Schofield, which will act as military escort throughout the funeral ceremonies and will furnish the guard of honor which night and day will be maintained around the body of the distinguished dead until it has been placed in the final resting place in Lakeview.

Immediately the car came to a stop the committee marching, two and two entered in a line in the rear of the car. Under the command of Lieutenant Otto Miller, of troop A, four sergeants of the troop, together with two corporals filed in double column behind the committee. A falling back toward the sides of the car, the members of the committee gave way to the detail of non-commissioned officers, who advanced to the end of the train and received from the undertaker's assistants the casket upon which rested two crossed palms tied with a broad ribbon of royal purple and an enormous wreath of pink roses and white sweet peas.

The cavalry at once wheeled into column in advance of the hearse and as soon as the members of the commission had taken their places in their carriages, the line of march was taken up for the Chamber of Commerce, about one mile distant. The escort proceeded at a slow march, requiring about twenty minutes to cover the distance.

FEW ARE PRESENT.

Not over 200 people were at the depot when the funeral train arrived and a crowd of possibly twice that number was gathered in front of the Chamber of Commerce building when the cavalry arrived. Wheeling his men to one side of the street in a line, Captain Schofield again brought them to present arms, while the six non-commissioned officers bore the body from the hearse through the broad entrance of the Chamber of Commerce building, and down the long hallway, which was absolutely deserted save for the presence of a solitary sentry who stood motionless with his carbine presented until all the funeral party had passed along. The casket was borne into the auditorium, where it was placed upon a low bier, the black of which was relieved by the folds of the national flag, which was draped across it.

WHERE HANNA LAY.

Back of the bier, which was placed in the identical spot where the body of the late Senator Hanna lay in state, was a bank of towering palms, and a large number of other plants were grouped tastefully around the hall. Four sentries were at once placed on guard and detail of police stationed in the outer hall. The civic military guards will be present every instant of the day and night until Wednesday morning, when the body will be taken to Wade Chapel in the Lakeview cemetery for the final services. By the request of Mrs. Hay, the casket will not be opened during the time it remains in the Chamber of Commerce, and the public generally will not be admitted to the hall in which the casket rests.

In addition to President Roosevelt who is to arrive at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning the local committee has been advised that local representatives of banks, Ex-Secretary of War Root, all the members of the present Cabinet except Secretary Taft, Ex-Secretaries of the Navy Long and Morton, Ex-Secretary of the Treasury Lyman J. Gage and Former Attorney-General Philander C. Knox will arrive tonight and Wednesday for the funeral. None of the distinguished visitors will remain for any length of time after the funeral. The President, arriving at 3 o'clock, remaining with the members of his Cabinet and with others during the evening. Mrs. Hay will return during the evening to Lake Sunapee.

WOMAN RESCUES A BABY FROM AWFUL DEATH

Runaway Babe Perches on the Railway Track as Train is Approaching.

BERKELEY, July 3.—A little runaway babe, the infant son of R. C. Allen was rescued from a horrible death on the railroad track in North Berkeley this morning by Mrs. S. Hulén of 1803 Shattuck avenue.

Teddie Allen, two years old, slipped away from his mother while she was busy at the household work, and then he went away from the house at Vine street and Shattuck avenue toward the business part of town. He carried a little wooden ring, his plaything, and cooed with satisfaction as he traveled along.

SITS ON TRACK.

Arriving at Delaware street the little baby decided to cross Shattuck avenue. He walked across as far as the tracks of the Southern Pacific Company, and then he sat down on the tracks. He perched himself on the steel rails in the center of the railroad and began to play hobnob-hire. It was great fun, and the baby cried in glee as he rode the rail, pretending it was a real hobby horse.

A few blocks away a local train of the Southern Pacific Company was preparing to make the run to the city.

The whistle sounded and the bell clanged.

TRAIN APPROACHES.

At this moment Mrs. Hulén happened to be called across the street from her home on the corner of Delaware and Shattuck avenue, and starting to walk was horrified to see the little baby at play on the railroad track while a block away roared and thundered the railroad train.

The baby was not at all disturbed. He thought it was part of the play, and when Mrs. Hulén, with a white face took him from his perilous position he resented the breaking of his game, and kicked and screamed a protest of the interruption.

"I WANT MY MAMMA."

White-faced Mrs. Hulén carried the little one into the house and when she had recovered from the shock of the affair, she telephoned to the Marshall's office that she had rescued a strange babe.

Officer Sarrahan went to the house and at once recognized the baby as Teddie Allen.

"Hello, Teddie," said the officer.

"I want my mamma," wailed the babe.

"That will be easy," said Sarrahan, and it was even so.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

"Jaw-Breaking Collection of Letters," Says Justice.

William Geary, justice of the peace, is going to advertise for an instructor in Slavonian. He says he is going to master the language of the Bohemians if it takes the rest of his natural life to do it.

It all came about in this way: A beekeeper, but determined, couple called at the County Clerk's office this morning and the man demanded a marriage license from Cupid Andy Johnston.

"What's your name?" asked the cherub, in a business-like manner as he turned the leaves of the affidavit book.

"Francis Szczepanski," was the reply.

"What?" repeated Johnston.

The Slav repeated the name and when Andy recovered he crossed his fingers, spat through his teeth and turned around three times.

Francis Szczepanski and Mary R. Tancrowski to wed.

Judge Geary was in the office and the prospective groom asked him to tie the nuptial knot. The justice was not in the mood to pass up a fee, so he took the man and his bride-to-be into the private office and proceeded to unite them.

"Do you, Francis," what's the rest of it?" he asked in astonishment as he glanced at the license.

"S-z-c-p-a-n-s-k-i," spelled the groom.

"How do you pronounce it?" demanded Geary.

When the Slav repeated the name Judge Geary tried to turn a back somersault, but failed. Then he proceeded with the ceremony.

"Do you take this woman to be your wife, and do you take this man to be your husband?" he asked and when the

STOLEN IN TRAP OF DEATH

Miner Asks Government to Recover Gold Bullion. Two Mill-Men Are Poisoned While at Their Work.

LOS ANGELES, July 3.—Walter Scott, a Death Valley mining man, has asked the authorities at Washington to recover gold bullion valued at $12,000 from an Italian laborer who has been arrested at Naples, Italy, with bullion to that amount in his possession.

Scott claims the bullion was stolen from his berth in a sleeping car en route between Pittsburg and New York, June 26, 1905. The bullion was in a suitcase which he deposited in his berth yesterday evening. When he awoke the grip was missing. Later it was found beside the track, but the precious metal was gone.

The Italian whose arrest at Naples was noted in recent dispatches, had in his possession bullion to the amount Scott says he lost, and he now asks Washington to take steps for its recovery.

BLACKFOOT, Idaho, July 3.—J. S. Nehr and Ferdinand Leflohie were found dead today in the Blackfoot Flour Mills.

The men locked themselves in the mill Saturday night for the purpose of fumigating it with bisulphide of carbon, and admonished Mr. Roberts, the proprietor, not to enter the mill during Sunday, as to do so would interfere with their work.

When the mill was opened today both were found dead, evidently overcome while making an effort to unlock the door.

Nehr leaves a family at Bonner, Montana. Leflohie's family reside here.

BIG CELEBRATION AT SAN JOSE

SAN JOSE, July 3.—The fourth of July celebration, which was begun here yesterday afternoon, was continued today with the broncho busting and other sports at Agricultural Park. Heaton's ship, which landed ten miles south of the city yesterday evening, was returned here this morning.

The main celebration will be tomorrow when Montgomery's aeroplane will make an ascent.

TRAIN HANDS ARE EXONERATED

SAN JOSE, July 3.—The jury today at the inquest over the remains of Giovanni Massaggi, who was killed by a train here Saturday evening, exonerated the train men in their verdict of accidental death.

answer came in the affirmative the magistrate pronounced them married.

"I think we'll cut out the rest," he said, "because I haven't any snuff with me."

JEWELER IS HURT BY FALL

Thomas Vallalovas, a jeweler who lives at 657 Washington street, was treated today at the Receiving Hospital for injuries received by falling off a car at Second street and Broadway. He says he attempted to alight from the car when it was moving and lost his balance. He struck head foremost on the pavement and received a severe sprain of the shoulder.

BECOMES INSANE.

Antone Fonglio, an Italian who recently came to this country and who has been living at 305 Third street, became violently insane last night at Alameda. While waiting for a train in that city he attacked several friends, and one of his countrymen, who bears the same name, swore to a complaint charging him with insanity. He is now in the Receiving Hospital and Wednesday he will be examined by the Lunacy Commission.

INDIGENTS REPORTED ON BUSINESS BEFORE THE MASCOT SUPERVISORS.

Many Applicants for Relief Fail to Receive Recommendation of Associated Charities.

The Associated Charities, which have been empowered to inquire into the condition of applicants to the Board of Supervisors for relief, reported this morning recommending that out of 62 cases inquired into, the applications of 24 be denied, and those of 8 be granted.

REJECTED APPLICANTS.

The applications rejected were those of Dominga Amador, Josephine Anderson, Annie Beam, James Clark, Susan Drew, Lorenz Eber, Matilda Eichenger, Mary Fernandez, Dorothy Ford, Associated Charities will give temporary relief; Delia Freeman, Paolo Gallardo, Lauritus H. Gehr, Elizabeth Galligan, Henricka Goss, family will care for her; Bridget McFadden, recommended for the County Infirmary instead of outside relief; Julia Nevils, Joseph C. Ridgway, Abraham Smith, William M. Smith, Horita Soto, Mary Spingie, Elizabeth Steckmeyer and Henry Tillison.

KEPT ON LIST.

The indigents who were recommended retained on the roll were Nels Anderson, Ida Barkman, Saul Bothwell, Samuel R. P. Bowser, Anita Brown, Anna Collison, Alfred Clark, Mary Jane Corbett, Milton DeBarr, Jacinto Demonte, Arthur E. Dunlap, Catherine Farias, increase to $6; Maria Fraga, Norman Galusha, Mary C. Hennessey, Phassalle M. Hocking, Ann Maria Johnson, Nels Jorgensen, Frank Kuton, increase of allowance to $3; John Kelly, Joseph E. Lehman, reduction of allowance; Joaquina R. Marshall, John Marcom, Tomoleon Poirier, Albert R. Riedel, Georgiana Ponta, Nathan Rothschild, Annie Sebastian, Helena Silva, Elmira Stark, Anna Valenzuela, Laura Vargas, Mary A. Villemain, Jehiel H. Wakeman, Charles Walstrom, August F. Wolbern, Elizabeth Wright.

OTHERS WAITING TURN.

There are about 350 more cases before the Associated Charities and upon these that body will report as rapidly as possible, an extension of sixty days having been granted to the Associated Charities for that purpose by the Supervisors.

The Board will act upon the applicants at the same time.

Rev. Mr. Walkley of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, with Miss Anita W. Wines, secretary of the Associated Charities and representing that organization, were in attendance at the meeting of the board. The former, in making the report for the Associated Charities, said that that body had not been able to examine into all the cases for relief which had been referred to it because, owing to the recent order of the Supervisors for the registration of people seeking relief, some of the applications had been in the hands of the Associated Charities only three days.

METHOD OF WORK.

The cases reported upon had been conscientiously examined by inspectors of the Associated Charities and had afterward been examined again by a committee before being finally decided upon. After having gone over all the cases in detail the Associated Charities had decided to recommend the denial of the applications for relief of twenty-four persons and the recommendation of those of thirty-eight indigents. The speaker desired the Supervisors to understand that every application for relief would receive immediate attention as soon as it was referred to the Associated Charities. Today he had noticed a man who had asked for medical attendance. Such cases should be referred at once to the Associated Charities instead of having the reference made by the Supervisors to a doctor, because such a doctor would charge for the attendance of the county. The Associated Charities, however, would refer such an applicant to a doctor who gave his services to that body free. The cost of medical service and of medicine also might thus be saved. Out of 300 cases on the list only seventeen applicants had appeared before the board, thus showing that by far the larger number of applicants had some means of maintenance during the interval in which re-registration was required.

Supervisor Mitchell said that when relief was asked for indigents by church societies it would be advisable to have such cases looked after by the Supervisors.

Rev. Mr. Walkley said that he would like to have the Supervisors, as a committee, meet with him, so that he might tell how the Associated Charities had arrived at the recommendations which it had made.

The board accordingly agreed to meet Mr. Walkley two weeks from today.

JOHN WALKER'S MAY BUILD NEW HOTEL

MAKES INTERESTING DISCOVERIES ON THE SULPHUR SPRINGS RANCH.

Colonel John Walker, who recently purchased the Sulphur Springs Ranch in Contra Costa county, has made some interesting and valuable old Indian finds on his ranch.

The Sulphur Springs ranch is located about two miles from Walnut Creek. In early days it was the central point for the Indians, and here they came for miles around in order to drink the sulphur water which they believed was a cure for all diseases. They also used a section of the ranch for a burying ground, and it is at this point that Mr. Walker is making his scientific research.

Mr. Walker is the son of James Walker, who settled in the valley about 1844. James bought his first ranch from Ygnacio Sibrián, who in early days owned a grant of 23,126 acres in Ygnacio Valley.

The early history of this section of Contra Costa county is known by no one better than John Walker, who was told the thrilling stories of early days by his father.

Mr. Walker has a vast fund of information, and knows every foot of the valley, as well as every foot of Mr. Diablo. He is a leader among the farmers in his district and wields a large amount of influence both in politics and business.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Mackinnon and family of Oakland were his guests yesterday.

The Misses Grace and Gertrude Walker will take part in the Fourth of July parade at Martinez tomorrow. They will ride beautiful cream horses and the costumes will match the color of their steeds. They are handsome young girls, and are much sought after in the valley.

HE WILL MIND HIS OWN BUSINESS

While playing the part of peacemaker in a fight that occurred Saturday night, Robert Brown, a laborer who lives at the Colburn House, was struck in the jaw and so seriously injured that he was taken to the Receiving Hospital for repairs. Brown does not know the names of the combatants, and he says that the next time a fight is started he will not attempt to stop it.

NEWSPAPER CHANGES.

BUTTE, Mont., July 3.—A. B. Keith, who for the past four years has been managing editor of the Butte Miner, has retired from that position on account of ill health and has been succeeded by J. L. Doble, recently managing editor of the Helena Independent.

WALNUT CREEK WILL BE KNOWN AS A SUMMER RESORT.

WALNUT CREEK, July 3.—This town will probably soon have a large summer resort. Mr. Rogers, proprietor of Rogers' Hotel, has plans in hand to make this town a great summer resort. This will probably result in the building of a fine hotel.

The present hotel cannot handle the traffic. Mr. Rogers is a very popular host and is known as the mayor of the town.

CHOSEN MINISTER TO PANAMA

OYSTER BAY, July 3.—President Roosevelt has authorized the announcement that he had appointed Charles E. Magoon as United States Minister to Panama. Judge Magoon is at present Governor of the canal zone at Panama and a member of the executive committee of the Isthmian Canal Commission. Prior to his appointment to the canal commission, he was the law officer of the insular affairs bureau of the War Department. He is in Panama at present performing his duties in conjunction with the canal work.

The determination of the President to have the offices of Governor of the canal zone and Minister to Panama filled by the same man was decided upon soon after the reorganization of the Isthmian Canal Commission two or three months ago. Experience had demonstrated that a conflict of authority was likely to arise between the Governor and Minister and the Panama Canal Commission.

It was well known that George V. Davis, former Governor of the canal zone and John Barrett, until recently Minister to Panama, did not get on well together, although there was no open difficulty between them. To avert any possible trouble in the future that might be determined upon, it was known that the designation of Judge Magoon as Minister to Panama in connection with his appointment as Governor of the canal zone was a notable pleasing to the officials and people of Panama.

SUPERVISORS AS EQUALIZERS

The Board of Supervisors today organized as a County Board of Equalization, with Supervisor John Mitchell, on motion of Supervisor Kelly, chosen as chairman and County Clerk J. P. Cook as clerk.

No business appearing before the new Board, as the assessment rolls have not been turned over, the Board adjourned till next Monday at 10 o'clock.

APPOINTED BY PARADE. SACRAMENTO, July 2.—Governor Farabee has appointed the following notices public for San Francisco: H. T. Simi, vice E. W. Woodman, term expired; R. F. Ector and J. D. Gist, to succeed themselves.

For Over Fifty Years Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children's teething. It cures colic, cures wind-colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. 25c. Perforated Seal. For sale at H. Schellhaas' corner store, Broadway street.

Matters of Interest to the Taxpayers Handled at the Session Today.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors, this morning, all the matters were present.

COUNTY PRISONERS.

Sheriff Barnett reported that the cost of maintaining prisoners in the County Jail for June was $175.50. Filed.

WANT RELIEF.

Applications for relief were received from Mrs. A. Opdyke for the support of Albert Opdyke at 1115 Center street, and Mary Bush with two children at 614 Adeline street. They were referred to the Associated Charities.

LICENSE APPLICATIONS.

Applications for saloon licenses were made by J. F. Gonsalves, Evergreen Home, Elmhurst. It was supported by a petition signed by several hundred names of residents in the vicinity. It was referred to the Committee on Licenses.

ROAD IN SAN LORENZO.

Rev. W. G. Mahony, pastor of St. Leander's Church in San Leandro, asked for permission to open the road opposite the Catholic Church in San Lorenzo for the purpose of laying a water-pipe across the San Lorenzo Road, the petitioner promising to have the road restored to its proper condition.

The request was granted by the unanimous vote of the board.

REQUISITIONS.

Requisitions were received from Superintendent Clark of the County Infirmary, the County Assessor, the District Attorney, the County Superintendent of Schools and the County Board of Education for supplies, all of which were granted.

ROAD REPORTS.

Road foreman Bridge of Fruitvale reported that he had expended $23.00 on repairs during June, and from Henry Gansberger of Mt. Eden Road District, that he had expended several hundred dollars during the same period. Filed.

LIEN CANCELLED.

Assessor Dalton notified the Board that G. T. Pettitt, an employee at Dick-ey's Ship Yards had paid his poll-tax for 1904 under the name of "G. Pettitt." As his name appeared on the delinquent poll-tax roll for 1904 the Board ordered same cancelled.

PIEDMONT WORK.

The report of Road Foreman S. F. Morrill of Piedmont District for June was filed and approved as correct by Supervisor Rowe. It showed expenditures aggregating $745 for road work, sprinkling, etc.

INSANE CASES.

Warden J. M. Page of the Receiving Hospital reported that, during June, there were fifteen persons admitted to the Insane Department, of which twelve were committed to various State Hospitals and three discharged after examination.

CORONER'S REPORT.

Coroner H. B. Mehrmann filed his report for June, showing that twenty-three inquests were held in Alameda county in that month.

Superior Rowe reported that in June he had authorized assistance to forty indigents to the extent of $82. Filed.

BANK TAXES.

The Board directed Clerk Cook to request of District Attorney Allen an opinion in regard to the legality of the two claims of the First National Bank for $1875 and $684.52, respectively, for return of taxes paid on assessment of National Bank stock in 1902 and 1903.

DAVIS STREET.

Supervisor Talcott informed the Board that residents of Brooklyn Township on Davis street at its crossing of Peralta Creek, desire to have a culvert erected at that point and will donate a small piece of land necessary to widen the culvert whenever the county lets a contract for the work. On motion of Mr. Talcott it was resolved to ask the County Engineer for plans and specifications for such culverts.

The Claremont Park Company presented to the Board for filing a map entitled "Claremont, Berkeley" which map is about to be placed of record in the office of the County Recorder. The Board by resolution declined to accept on behalf of the public streets offered by the map, and known as "Encina Place," "The Uplands," "Moraga Road," "Plaza Nacional," "Contra Costa Road," "Hillcrest Court," "Hillcrest Road," "The Crossways," "Bucalypso Road" and "The Steps." The map was filed.

TRANSFER FUNDS.

Resolutions by Supervisor Talcott were adopted transferring money from the General Road Fund to several District Road Funds as follows: Brooklyn, $625.82; San Lorenzo, $480; Palomares, $200; Fruitvale, $500. Adjourned.

SCAVENGERS WANT CHANCE TO PUT IN BID.

They Would Have a New Deal in Regard to the Collection of Garbage in the City.

At this evening's meeting of the City Council the scavengers will present a petition asking to have the ordinances now governing the collection and disposal of garbage rescinded and the matter of letting a contract for the collecting and disposing of the garbage re-advertised.

Attorney Alva Udell, on behalf of the Scavengers' Syndicate, a corporation doing business under the laws of Nevada, has prepared the petition. He states that the present ordinance is unconstitutional in many of its provisions and for that reason is void.

In the petition it is recited that the ordinance discriminates between dwellings and stores in the amount paid for the removal of garbage. This discrimination, it is alleged, invalidates the law. Besides distinguishing between classes it is alleged the ordinance confers powers on the Pacific Incinerating Company which are in excess of that possessed by the police, inasmuch as an agent of the company can enter premises where no nuisance exists and remove garbage and compel the person owning the property to pay for the compulsory service.

It is alleged that the Council has no right to fix a fee which shall be compulsory, as there is no provision in the charter which provides for a fee of that kind.

The principal point made in the petition is that in granting an exclusive franchise to the Pacific Incinerating Company the contract was not awarded to the lowest bidder or any other bidder.

For the foregoing reason the Council is asked to rescind the contract with the Incinerating Company and re-advertise for bids, so that the scavengers will have an opportunity to compete.

WHITE FIR TO BE INVESTIGATED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Paul D. Kelleter of the United States Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, is a guest at the Occidental Hotel, awaiting the arrival from Washington of six men from the department who are to visit the northern part of California under his direction for the purpose of studying the marketable qualities of the white fir. Mr. Kelleter has been doing active work in California on behalf of the Government and in conjunction with the State authorities in the northern counties for several years, during which he has made maps of the forests of the State and forwarded data to Washington that will soon reappear in pamphlet form.

Two years ago the co-operative arrangement between California and the Government went into effect whereby both were to share the expense of abolition. Mr. Kelleter was selected to take charge of the work, having made a thorough study of forestry at Yale for several years and gaining practical experience in other States. The two years' contract ended last month and has again been renewed. At the same time the Government has changed the name of the Bureau of Forestry to simply Forest Service.

Mr. Kelleter has just returned from Mariposa county and the Yosemite, where he has been doing work for the Government. As soon as his men arrive from Washington the party will leave for McCloud, where they will try to learn whether it is possible to use the white fir as wood pulp. It is of poor quality for lumber, and it is made of commercial value the great forests of white fir will rapidly increase in value.

When the work is finished the results will be sent to Washington and there re-issued in pamphlet form. Beside work in the mountain counties, Mr. Kelleter has made a semi-official visit to Humboldt and other lumber regions and a general study of the lumber industry. He has also compiled a forest map of the State, which is issued at Washington, and which shows the distribution of the various species and their standing.

SECRETARY HAY'S FUNERAL

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Assistant Secretary of State Pierce has been advised that the President has asked Ellihu Root, former Secretary of War, to accompany him to Cleveland to attend Secretary Hay's funeral and to represent the State Department on that occasion.

The Chicago strikers seem to have about decided that they will gain a "big victory" if they can get all their old places back—Kansas City Star.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children

The Kid You Have Always Bought

THE MASCOT IS GONE

Supposed to Have Disappeared With a Baseball Team.

Wanted, by his mother, a baseball mascot, aged seven years, named Lloyd Daniels, who disappeared from home yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and has not been heard from since.

This is the nature of the advertisement Mrs. Nellie Daniels, 688 Eighteenth street, placed in the hands of Chief of Police Higgins this morning. Lloyd is a rugged young man and has an overweening desire to attend baseball games. The national pastime has him hypnotized by the magic sound of the umpire's voice when he hoarsely cries "play ball" is music to the youngster's ear and has more charm for him than the announcement that a circus is coming to town.

Yesterday morning he left home with the warning of his mother ringing in his ears to be back early. He wended his way to West Oakland where two teams were engaged in practice at the Purita street grounds. One of the teams, the City Fronts of San Francisco, at once accepted the offer of the young American to become its mascot. His only pay was the privilege of dragging bats to and from the home plate and carrying foul balls that passed the catcher. This was great sport, and when the team went to San Francisco he was included in the number. Since then the boy has not been heard from by his parents. Inasmuch as the boy was kidnapped by the whole team, it is thought that he will be cared for and returned in due time to his anxious parents.

The lost boy is described as seven years old, dressed in a light blue shirt waist, brown trousers, knee pants, and wearing a green cap.

Any one coming across a diminutive mascot of that description, or strength, in favor on his mother by communicating with her.

It is Necessary to the comforts of home, the success of the cook, and the preservation of good health.

FRED DIECKMANN FUNERAL OF E. F. THAYER TO MARRY

POPULAR YOUNG OAKLANDER TO TAKE A SOUTHERN BRIDE.

The engagement will shortly be announced of Fred T. Dieckmann of this city and Miss Hobbs of Savannah, Ga. The announcement will come as a great surprise, as it was not even suspected by the friends of the interested parties.

A few months ago Miss Hobbs was the guest of Miss Noelle De Golia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. De Golia of Harrison street.

Miss De Golia and Miss Hobbs had been schoolmates at Miss Scoville's school in New York.

SERVICES HELD AT THE LATE HOME OF THE DECEASED.

The funeral of Edward F. Thayer, the well known Broadway wine dealer, who died last Friday at a sanitarium in Livermore, where he had gone for his health, was held yesterday afternoon from the late family residence, 329 Alice street.

Many acquaintances attended the services and paid their respects to the memory of the deceased. The rooms at the home were not large enough to accommodate those who attended the services, and many were compelled to stand in front of the home.

There were many floral pieces sent to the family residence as a token of the respect and esteem in which the deceased was held.

Some of the floral offerings were exquisitely beautiful.

The Rev. Dr. J. K. McLean, formerly pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiated at the services.

He spoke feelingly of the character, generosity and other admirable qualities possessed by the deceased.

After the funeral services were over at the house the remains, according to the expressed wish of the deceased, were interred. The funeral was held under the auspices of the A. O. U. W.

WANTS HIS HEART

BY A HOLLISTER SUICIDE.

HOLLISTER, July 2.—Gustave A. Kihn committed suicide here by taking morphine. He was a native of Hamburg where he has a brother, who is a prominent merchant.

Kihn left a unique will, which is dated February 27, 1905. Among its conditions are the following:

"In case of my death I wish and make the following regulations. My burial shall be done by Undertaker Hopcroft. He shall procure a doctor, who has to cut and lift my heart out of my body. The doctor is to be paid for his trouble $500. My heart is to be put in my coffin outside the body. I do not want any notice of my death put in the street or in the newspapers. Nobody, I say nobody shall see me after death. I want Hopcroft to pay special attention to this. My funeral, or interment, shall be done early as possible in the morning. Nobody shall follow my coffin. I do not want any flowers.

Mr. Kihn left about $400. After $50 has been paid to the doctor for cutting out his heart, and $75 for his funeral, he left $275 for his wife. He has three children of Ben O'Connor, a saloon keeper, by whom Kihn was employed as janitor.

SESSION

MEMBERS ELECT OFFICERS

TEAMSTERS LOSE BALL GAME.

Local 119 of the Bakers' Union held an interesting meeting Saturday evening at Kohler & Chase Hall, attending to several important matters. Election of officers was first on the program, the following being chosen:

President, David Burkhardt; vice-president, W. Stack; recording secretary, Adolph Lee; financial secretary, C. H.

trustee—A. Leon, Charles Wright, and John Naderer; executive board—David Burkhardt, C. H. Bullock, W. Stack, David Kelly, and Adolph Lee; delegates to the miscellaneous national conference—C. H. Bullock, H. H. Hama, and C. Bullock; delegates to the Central Labor Council—C. H. Bullock and Albert Hausman.

By the Australian ballot, the members of the executive board, national treasurer, secretary and delegate to the American Federation of Labor, as well as the editor of the Bakers' Journal, the official organ of the Brotherhood, were elected by the members of the conference. The members of the executive board were elected by a vote of 100 to 10, and the result sent to the central body without being announced to the members.

In the same manner the men voted on the question of whether or not to have an international convention next October, and if so, where.

They were then on amending the provisions of the international constitution which refer to the sick and death changes are such as to make safer the position of those insuring in the order.

TEAMSTERS DEFEATED.

By a score of 17 to 2 the team representing Local 70 of the Brotherhood of Teamsters went down to defeat yesterday.

Armen of West Oakland under the names of the Bahá'is. The contest took place at Freeman's ball park and was witnessed by a large crowd, there being no charge made for admission. The losing nine paid the charge for the grounds.

Frank Masco and "Dutch" Herz constituted the battery for the teamsters and did good work. In the fifth inning there was a remarkable play made by James Cronin, playing right field. Running nearly fifty feet he gathered in a hot fly with his left hand.

ANOTHER UNIONIZED.

The U. P. Restaurant on Seventh street is the latest recruit to the ranks of the union houses in Oakland. Last Saturday Martin Katch, the proprietor reached an agreement with the Cooks and Waiters Alliance, No. 21, and took back the union men who had struck the first of last month.

The officers of the local wish to deny the story which appeared in one of the Sunday papers, that the California Restaurant had been recognized by the union. No agreement has been reached yet with this establishment.

SCOTTISH DAY AT UNIVERSITY

BERKELEY, July 2.—A Scottish gala day will be held Saturday, July 15, in the Greek Theatre, in connection with the Scottish poetry course in the summer

The program, which will begin at 2:30 p. m., will consist of reels, strathspeys, coronachs, etc., by Highlanders in full costume; songs of the East Coast Fishwives in costume; recitation of some of Burns' masterpieces, by a native Caledonian; literary address, "The Scotch-women in Song and story, by Professor C. H. Patterson, San Anselmo Theological College. Also "A Man's a Man for a' That," and "Bonnie Wee Thing," "Within a Mile of Edinburgh Toun" and other favorite Scottish songs will be rendered by talented vocalists. The Scottish Psalm Tunes of the olden times will be sung by a large male choir. The proceeds of the entertainment will go toward the purchase of books for the University Library, which is poorly equipped in Scottish Literature.

Mr. Scott of the Austin Freight and Transportation Company denies the report that the company has sold out. The fact is that it has only made a contract with the Piper-Aden Company regarding the shipment of freight.

License Inspectors Connolly and Franke report that the collections of license for the last month are $550 in excess of the amount collected for a corresponding period last year.

Many are convinced that the country is already in the throes of a revolution. Although the critical character of the situation can hardly be overstated and the danger of a civil upheaval is undoubtedly real there is no open mutiny of soldiers, and until some regiments follow the example of their comrades on the navy go over, the rising has little chance of success.

At the same time there is enough discontent among the soldiers here to consider it doubtful whether they will stand the test of obeying orders to fire on the people in the streets.

SANTA FE OFFICIALS INSPECT
THE RAILROAD YARDS
AT RICHMOND.

POINT RICHMOND, July 3.—A special train bearing several high officials of the Santa Fe arrived from the south yesterday. The members of the party were J. W. Kendrick, third vice-president; A. G. Wells, general manager, and L. L. Hubbard, general superintendent. They made an inspection of the local shops and yards, and it is thought that the improvement of the company's shops here will be recommended. It may be that the extension of the shops will be deferred another year, but that, like the extension of the yards, is a necessity.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.
J. D. Wightman, of Antioch, former supervisor of Contra Costa, and one of the most prominent ranchers and business men of that section, met with a serious accident yesterday during a flag-raising at the Live Oak school near Antioch. The pole fell and struck Wightman, and among the injuries he sustained was a broken back. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital for treatment and is now in St. Luke's hospital. It is feared that his injuries may prove fatal.

CENSUS COMPLETED.
Census Enumerator R. G. Sutt will make his report to the board of supervisors at Martinez Monday. He has his work almost completed. The number of people within the proposed incorporation will be a little in excess of 2100.

The board will discuss the election on Monday and the date of same will be about August 10.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD.
The funeral services of Francis M. Ross were held Saturday at 1:30 o'clock at the family residence on San Pablo avenue. The body was taken to Oakland for cremation. The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs had charge of the funeral services and they met at Fraternal Hall at 12 o'clock noon from whence they went in a body to the home of the deceased by trolley car.

TEACHER ENTERTAINS.
Miss Jean Bartholomew pleasantly entertained the girls of her class and Mildred Nesbit Tuesday afternoon. Games were enjoyed and an elegant luncheon served. Those present were Katie and Edith Gilardi, Rosa and Helen Grace, Virginia and Ethel Griffin, Grace Ross, Irene Powers and Mildred Nesbit.

WILL HAVE A PARK.
Negotiations are on for the purchase of the Stege homestead from Miss Stege. It is a very beautiful place and if it is secured by the Suburban Railway Company it will be converted into a park and picnic grounds.

WED AT MARTINEZ.
J. W. Early and Miss Amelia Catherine Blum, sister of Prof. Blum, were married at Martinez Wednesday. The parties are residents of Spasta, but will take up their residence at Martinez.

TEACHERS ELECTED.
The Board of School Trustees of the Richmond District held a meeting yesterday and elected John R. Nyström, the new trustee, clerk of the board for the ensuing term.

The following teachers were elected: Principal, Prof. W. T. Helms; vice-principal, Prof. J. E. Zurnwald; teachers, Mrs. Emma Axel, Mrs. Wilfred Stockwell, Miss Jennie Cuthbertson, Miss Laura Lowden, Miss R. J. Taber, Miss Maud Watrous, Miss Mollie Manster, Miss Elizabeth Carpenter, Miss Fumrill.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.
Miss Tessie Rich's kindergarten scholars engaged in patriotic exercises today in honor of the approaching anniversary of Independence Day. The exercises consisted of flag drill, recitations and songs.

S. Handley is engaged in decorating the trolley wire of the E. S. & R. Railway. Small flags will be hung on the guy wires all the way from the refinery to the county line.

The ferry boat San Pablo was taken to the Union Iron Works Friday morning to be placed in dry dock to have her bottom scraped and painted. She will be back on her regular run tomorrow.

The Suburban Railway has gone back to the old time card, leaving the terminals at Stockton at 10:30 a. m. and 10:30 p. m. The other card was only an experiment and was found to be unsatisfactory.

Miss Anna Tully is spending a two-week vacation at Hilden Springs. Mrs. J. O. Ford is here from Merced visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Phelps, and her sister, Mrs. John Moyer. She will remain here a month.

Miss Annetta King returned home Saturday evening from an enjoyable two weeks' outing at Los Gatos and Santa Cruz.

A new sidewalk has been laid in front of the Richmond post office by Contractor Oakes.

Rev. H. J. Loken returned Saturday night from his Oregon vacation, much improved in health.

P. Arthur is quite ill at his home in East Richmond.

Misses Jessie and Geraldine Baldwin of Stockton are visiting Mrs. Chas. Adams. The Suburban Railway Company have put in a turn-out switch at the half way place, near the Stege junction, to save time and to allow the cars to make better time.

ALAMEDA TEACHER IS APPOINTED

SANTA CRUZ, July 3.—G. I. Johnston of Alameda has been appointed principal of the Mission School, Miss Sarah J. Lee of Alameda, teacher of mathematics in the high school, and Emily P. Morrison, Miss Anna Biss and Miss Katherine Gilman, new teachers in the lower grades.

ASSEMBLYMAN PHIL WALSH AGAINST CHINESE.

Does Not Believe in Letting Down
the Bars to the Yellow Laboring Class.

"I am a Republican, but I shall no longer be a Republican if my party favors letting down the bars and admitting to this country a class of people who are so great a menace, not only to the laboring classes, but to the welfare of the whole nation."

These words were spoken yesterday at the second meeting of the Alameda County Anti-Chinese, Japanese and Korean League, by Assemblyman Philip M. Walsh, Chief Deputy District Attorney of Alameda county, who was a prominent candidate for the Speakership of the Assembly at the last session and who is one of the best-known Republicans in California. Continuing, he said: "The danger that must be avoided to the Pacific Coast, there is little need of awakening public sentiment. We are all alive to what Asiatic immigration means. We have this undesirable class in our midst, and we know how they threaten our prosperity and our very existence by cheapening our standard of living. But in the East, where Japanese and Chinese coolies are practically unknown, it is very different, and, unless the question is vigorously brought to the attention of our Eastern voters, it is probable that steps will be taken to bring about what we call 'cheap labor.' It is this that we of the West must inaugurate. We must present facts, and picture with all its dangers the results that would follow Asiatic immigration."

"The California delegation in Congress understands conditions and can be counted upon to oppose any measure of Commerce and Labor which can also be counted upon, and I am sure that the reported statements with which he has been credited to the effect that he was favorable to Japanese labor for the fruit ranches of California, are untrue. I feel certain that our Congressional delegation will be found fighting our battles against the yellow peril, in spite of the opposition that he may meet from the Administration from the statements of the East in general."

O. A. Tveitmo, president of the Japanese and Korean Exclusive League of San Francisco, spoke chiefly against Japanese immigration. He showed that there were in California alone 85,000 Japanese, and that while in 1887 only 2,000 came, the United States nearly 13,000 had arrived in 1904, exclusive of those who had crossed the Canadian border. He said: "This is a question that concerns not laboring men alone, but all classes of the community. Anything that tends to injure the laborer reflects upon all the people. I believe that if it had not been for the presence of the Chinese in California, this State would now have a population of five million. Not because the Chinese have been among us, people have been afraid to come to California, and the State has remained to a great extent undeveloped."

"It should be the purpose of this league to collect statistics bearing upon the question of Asiatic immigration, in order that, when we make our arguments before Congress, we may be well fortified with facts. The San Francisco League has already begun this. To you we wish to commend the work of your committee."

Another meeting will be held next Friday in Cooks' and Walters' Hall. A finance committee was appointed yesterday. It consisted of W. W. West, Miss M. Hampton and J. McGinn.

DO NOT MISS THE ORATION SAMUEL M. SHORTRIDGE WILL SPEAK AFTER PARADE JULY FOURTH.

While in THE TRIBUNE there has appeared the detail of the procession, the athletic sports in the afternoon and the band concert and fireworks in the evening of July 4th, it is deemed necessary here, to make special reference to the literary and musical exercises which are to take place as soon as the procession has come to a close.

Many people, in past years, have assumed that the oration of the day and other patriotic exercises connected with it are to be delivered in the afternoon, and, accordingly, repair to the Macdonough at 2 o'clock p. m. only to discover that the whole program has been carried out and the exercises have been brought to a close.

There are hundreds of people in this city who desire to hear the oration of the eminent lawyer and orator, Samuel M. Shortridge and these and others, accordingly, must not overlook the fact that to gratify their wishes, they must secure seats in the afternoon. The date of the parade which will take place, not earlier than 11:30 a. m. and, in all probability, about noon. The program will be an excellent one as will appear from the following:

Opening address, Mayor Frank E. Ross, chairman of the day; invocation, Rev. William Robert Reid, pastor of the First Free Baptist Church; male chorus, "Stand by the Flag" (arranged by W. E. Lott); senior class, Young Men's, John A. Park, Carl Erickson, Charles A. Smith, Ivan Williams, Ernest Wilson, Charles B. Andrews, W. A. Mitchell; basses—M. W. Jellie, Clarence Castelli, George White, Gus Oliver, Percy B. Hardin, George H. L. Whitehead, C. H. Brown, C. P. Rowlands, under the direction of Clement P. Rowlands; monologue—"Aunt Eleanor's Hero," Mrs. J. E. Heender; song—"The Olden Days," Mrs. J. E. Heender; oration, "The Declaration of Independence," Major E. A. Sherman; "Pledge of the English," (Louis Spohr); oration, "The Right of Liberty," Hon. Samuel M. Shortridge; historical pictures, George Kammer; "America," sung by the audience, led by Clement P. Rowlands.

Everything is in readiness for a splendid time at Idora Park tomorrow, where the first annual picnic of St. Mary's parish will be held. The different committees have completed all arrangements and a pleasant day of fun and amusement is promised to the picnicers.

The first regiment of the League of the Cross Cadets will go to Idora Park after the parade. Company N, of the L. C. C., is now attached to St. Mary's parish and the members of the different companies from San Francisco will spend the afternoon and evening at the picnic grounds as the special guests of Company N.

Captain H. J. Leonard of Company N, assisted by the officers and privates, will try to help their comrades from the other side of the bay to enjoy the day.

The luncheon and supper which will be served by the members of the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society, promise to be the popular events of the day, as the price, twenty-five cents, belongs to everybody, and the menu contains the best.

The thirsty will find relief at the soda fountain, where soda water, lemonade and other choice soft drinks will be served by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H. This part of the program will be carefully attended to by Mrs. Mary L. Jones, assisted by Mrs. John Hagerty, Mrs. John Quinn, Mrs. Edward Dower, Miss Mary Cook, Miss Agnes Sullivan, Miss Josie Mansfield, Mrs. C. Brown, Francis Cedez and P. J. Delehanty.

The dance pavilion at Idora Park has been enlarged to double its former capacity, and it will be used for the first time tomorrow. Professor T. McNamara's orchestra will provide the music for dancing. Large crowds are expected in the evening to enjoy the grand band concert.

The grounds will remain open until 10:30 p. m., thus giving ample time for all to enjoy the music and the quiet of Idora, away from the noise and confusion of fireworks. Callahan's Band will render the music for the grand promenade. Judging from the number of tickets that have been sold in San Francisco, a very large attendance from across the bay will be present, both in the afternoon and in the evening.

OAKLAND BOY BADLY INJURED

KENTFIELD, July 3.—C. J. Rued, a 20-year-old youth, of 1160 Eighth street, Oakland, was seriously hurt by jumping off a moving south-bound electric train at 6:45 Saturday evening. Rued and two companions, boarded the train at San Rafael, his companions getting off at 4:05. After the train had pulled out of there, Rued jumped off the train at a road-crossing 100 yards distant. He fell flat, and the electric shoe projecting from the car tracks caught him, dragging him forty feet, he screamed, who saw him jump, applied the emergency brakes, otherwise he would have been badly hurt by being brought in contact with the two live power rails.

The electric shoe tore the clothing off Rued's body, cut three fingers and a portion of the index finger of his left hand and lacerated his chest. His head is badly cut, and he probably is injured internally. He was conscious when rescued and gave his address.

POLICE RESCUE WOMEN

Saved Party in Wrecked Launch From Drowning

NEW YORK, July 3.—Four policemen last evening rescued four men and three women who were stranded and in great peril on the rocks of the Bronx Kills. The party has returned from a cruise up Long Island Sound on a rapha launch and it was intended to take a moonlight trip up the Hudson river passing through the Kills. The propeller snapped and the launch was hurled upon the rocks in midstream. A strong tide was running, and the boat was whirled about like a feather. The men were helpless and the women in a frenzy of fright.

All screamed and shouted, but for a long time there was none to give assistance. At the last the boat struck a sharp ledge and began to fill. The four policemen put off in a launch, towing a large rowboat, but on account of the rocks and swift current were unable to reach the stranded party for some time. They succeeded, finally, and just as the last person was rescued the launch went down.

DIRECTNESS AND ACCURACY.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S AIM ALWAYS HAS BEEN to give positive and VALUABLE SERVICE for every dollar received, therefore when he began professional life he sought to especially in the treatment of a very large class of cases that were being mis-treated by ordinary physicians through ignorance of the special functions and needs of women both in health and in disease.

This necessitated GOING TO THE ROOT OF THINGS in two special senses. IN CAREFUL, EXHAUSTIVE STUDY to know what was the real cause of the innumerable aches, pains, drains and weaknesses which afflicted women, and AGAIN TO THE ROOTS which nature had provided so plentifully for the HEALING OF MANKIND.

Thoroughly convinced that alcoholic stimulants and medicines prepared with alcohol did far more harm than good he prepared his remedies, extracted their virtues and preserved them without alcohol, then, guided by actual experience, formed combinations by which a minimum of medicine produced the maximum result.

THIS INSURED HIS SUCCESS and gave him the reputation of "the successful specialist," and, quite naturally, the prescription that he thus used most became "HIS FAVORITE," and was the origin of

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as now known. In no sense is it a "patent medicine" but a REAL PRESCRIPTION OF A REAL DOCTOR, that had run into great popularity because it cured more than nine out of every ten of the cases in which it was correctly used.

One of the important ingredients in this now world-famous "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" is

BLUE COHOSH ROOT, which was in great repute among the American Indians a century ago. The squaws used it for the relief of their special troubles, particularly for the easing of the pains of maternity, calling it "Papoose root."

It Stands Alone not only in its ingredients, but also as the only specific adapted remedy for woman's diseases which absolutely contains NO ALCOHOL.

It Stands Alone as the one medicine for women, the makers of which take their patients fully into their confidence and tell them exactly what they are taking. This Dr. Pierce can afford to do, because his "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" is made of such ingredients and after a working formula that has hundreds of thousands of cures to its credit placing its merits above criticism.

PROFESSIONAL PREJUDICE against the use of "patent medicines" can no longer stand in your way if you need help of the kind that is now so easily obtainable.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the liver, stomach and bowels.

FIVE WOMEN ARE POISONED

HOSTESS AND GUESTS SERIOUSLY ILL AFTER EATING MEAL

Ptomaline poisoning nearly caused the death of five women Saturday evening at a dinner given by Mrs. F. A. Dick of 327 Alhambra street to her daughters, Mrs. Carrie Mehan, Mrs. F. A. Sawyer, Mrs. Ida Tripp and Mrs. R. L. Myrick of Alameda. Mrs. Dick and her guests were stricken shortly after the meal. Their illness became so serious that Dr. Paul Lanz was summoned, who discovered the cause of their illness and administered relief as quickly as possible.

The dinner was given during the late afternoon, and about 7 o'clock Mrs. Dick complained of nausea and fever. A short time after the other members of the party were overcome, and in a few minutes they were all in convulsive agony. Mrs. Dick and Mrs. Myrick were the most seriously ill, and for a time it was not known whether they would recover, but after with attention they recovered sufficiently to be considered out of danger.

The poisoning was caused either by canned soup or ice cream.

Dr. Lanz, the attending physician, said that he could not tell in which article of food the poison was present. He also stated that it was lucky for the sufferers that there was such a quantity taken in each case that it reacted, and, to a certain extent, antidoted itself.

The women are all out of danger now, although Mrs. Dick and Mrs. Myrick are still confined to their beds.

Mrs. Myrick, who resides at 1315 Lafayette street, Alameda, was so ill that she could not be removed to her home.

CALIFORNIA LEADS IN OIL

WASHINGTON, July 3.—F. H. Oilman, special agent of the Geological Survey, has collected statistics of the oil industry in the United States during 1904. His figures show that California is the leading State in oil production, having produced 2,241,000 barrels, valued at $3,285,434, the average value being 273 cents per barrel.

Texas produced 2,241,000 barrels, valued at 387 cents a barrel. Oklahoma and Indian Territory jumped from 139,000 barrels in 1903 to 1,368,000 barrels in 1904. Ohio was next to Texas last year with 1,876,000 barrels, Pennsylvania, 1,320,000 barrels, and Indiana, 1,333,000 barrels. The total production of the United States last year was 117,063,421 barrels.

TRAGEDY IN THE NORTH

CHEHALIS, Wash., July 3.—A feud of West Virginia mountaineers which has been transferred to Washington resulted in a murder and suicide yesterday near Riffe, in the eastern part of Lewis county. Julian Coleman killed Jack Justice with a revolver and later blew out his own brains with the weapon.

Each man was about 35 years of age and unmarried. Justice came to Washington five years ago from Boggs, W. Va., where he had killed a man. His trial for the murder cost his father, who is a Judge, nearly all of his wealth.

The quarrel which ended in the tragedy today took place on a mountain road.

THE LID IS ON DEADWOOD.

For the first time since gold was discovered in the Black Hills there is no gambling going on in Deadwood and the other mining towns and camps in this county. Everything is closed tightly by the order of the Mayor and county authorities. Deadwood without gambling is like a river without water. There has been an anti-gambling law here for years, but no efforts were made to enforce it until yesterday, when, without warning, orders were issued that all gambling houses close. Within an hour every gambling place had quit business and Deadwood's old-time glory had departed. The sports are making great efforts to gain permission to reopen.

WOMAN HELD UP A WOMAN

Arrested For Vagrancy But Judge Tells Her to Go Home.

Miss Olive Knode, a young tailorless, was arrested last night by Policeman Pardee as she was coming out of the Atlantic house and taken to the City Prison where a charge of vagrancy was placed against her. This morning Acting Police Judge Geary allowed her to go.

Miss Knode was very indignant in court this morning at her arrest. She kept her head buried in her handkerchief until it was time to make a statement to the court and then she stated that the testimony of Pardee was all lies.

"It is a shame," she said to Judge Geary, "that a hard working girl as I am should be dragged into court on such a charge. Why I never saw Pardee before he placed me under arrest, and I am sure he never seen me. I went into the Atlantic House on Washington street to deliver a note to a friend of mine. When I came down stairs I was arrested. Despite the fact that I had a gentleman friend who was waiting to escort me home."

Judge Geary after listening to the young woman's story allowed her to go, holding that there was no evidence on which to base a conviction of the defendant on the charge preferred by Pardee.

TO MANUFACTURE THEIR OWN PAPER

OTTAWA, July 3.—The biggest deal ever put through in Newfoundland, and one that cannot fail to have a tremendous influence on the future of the island colony, has just been closed. The expenditure of many millions of dollars is involved in the transaction, which gives the Harmsworths of London, England, timber lands of nearly 3,500 square miles in extent, from which they will obtain sufficient pulp wood to enable them to manufacture 200 tons of paper daily.

From the Government of the colony Harmsworth's newspaper syndicate has leased for a term of ninety-nine years, with an option of renewal at the end of that period, a tract of land containing 3,000 acres, which will be used in addition to this the syndicate has purchased outright 1,100 square miles of territory from the timber estates and 203 square miles from the Reid Company. It is the intention of the syndicate to proceed at once with the erection of mills in the center of the island. These will cost about $3,000,000 and will employ upward of 1,000 men.

MEN INJURED IN LEAP FOR LIFE

While attempting to jump from a wagon during a runaway near Oak Grove in Contra Costa county Saturday evening, John Gomez, a stevedore, who resides at 122 Second street, and Paul Riguera, an Italian, who lives at 122 and Alice streets, both had one of their legs broken by the heavy fall.

The party of six driving from Oakland to a camping spot which they had chosen, when the horse became frightened and ran away with the rest of the party. Gomez and Riguera saw that the wagon without being hurt, and it was not until Gomez and Riguera saw that the wagon was about to fall over an embankment that they jumped for their life.

The horse plunged over the embankment and was instantly killed.

KNOWLAND IN NEW CORPORATION

Articles of incorporation of the Alameda Investment Company have been filed with the County Clerk. The capital stock is $75,000, and the directors are the following: R. E. Knowland, Tynndal Bishop and Loren A. O. Lott, and Charles S. Neal.

HE STOLE GIN FROM A CHINESE

Walter Fender, a young boy accused of stealing a bottle of gin from Hong Fong, a Chinese restaurant keeper, was allowed to go this morning on his own recognizance, with the understanding that he should report to the court his conduct on July 18.

ODDITIES.

There is a better way to make one's frayed cuffs presentable than to pare them with the scissors. Says a writer: "With the first touch of steel the cuff is ruined. Light a match and pass it round the frayed edge (do not burn your wrist). The cleansing fire will remove the frayed edge and leave the pure gloss of the cuff. A cuff treated with fire will last many generations longer than the one treated with steel."

A Sheffield, England, firm has on view in its window a pocket knife possessing seventy-five blades. Each blade has a local scene engraved upon it. The blades would cost any person who can cut all the blades without cutting his fingers.

A new incandescent lamp with zirconium filament is announced in Germany. Professor Wieding, a physicist, recently presented a lamp of this kind to the Electro-Technical society of Cologne.

A FEARFUL FATE.

It is a fearful fate to have to endure the terrible torture of flies. It is best for cuts, burns and injuries. 25 cents at Osgood's drug stores, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington."

ELIHU ROOT TO BE AT FUNERAL

PRESIDENT WANTS HIM TO REPRESENT THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 3.—President Roosevelt has prepared the formal proclamation announcing the death of John Hay, Secretary of State, and it is being promulgated today in Washington. The proclamation will be forwarded by mail to all Ambassadors and Ministers of the United States in foreign countries and also will be transmitted officially to the diplomatic representatives at Washington of foreign nations. The following is the full text of the announcement:

"A proclamation by the President of the United States.

"John Hay, Secretary of State of the United States, died on July 3, 1898, a death which is a crushing sorrow to his friends, is to the people of the country a national bereavement, and in addition it is a serious loss to mankind, for to him it was given to stand as a leader in the effort to better world conditions by striving to advance the cause of international peace and justice."

"He entered the public service as the trusted and intimate companion of Abraham Lincoln, and for well-nigh forty years he served his country with loyal devotion, and high ability in many positions of honor and trust, and finally he crowned his life-work by serving as Secretary of State with such far-sightedness of the future and such loyalty to lofty ideas as to confer lasting benefits not only upon our own country, but upon all the nations of the world. As a suitable expression of national mourning, I direct that the diplomatic representatives of the United States in all foreign countries display the flags over their embassies and legations at half-mast for ten days; that for a like period the flag of the United States be displayed at half-mast at all forts and military posts and at all naval stations and on all vessels of the United States."

"I further order that on the day of the funeral the executive departments and that on all public buildings throughout the United States the national flag be displayed at half-mast."

"Done at the City of Washington this, the third day of July, A. D. 1905, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and twenty-ninth."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

By the President:

HERBERT D. PIERCE.

Secretary of State. The President has completed arrangements for President Roosevelt's trip to Cleveland to attend the funeral of Mr. Hay. The funeral will take place at 11 o'clock next Wednesday morning, and the journey from Oyster Bay to Cleveland will consume nearly twenty hours. It will be necessary for the President to leave here Tuesday afternoon. He will make the trip on a special train over the Pennsylvania Railroad, leaving here about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. At Philadelphia the President will be joined by members of his Cabinet, who will accompany him to the funeral of Mr. Hay.

It is expected the President will reach Cleveland about 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. He will remain there only a few hours, the train being scheduled to start on the return trip at 3 o'clock that afternoon. The President will return directly to Oyster Bay, arriving here about 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE

W. E. DARGIE, President
Business Office and Publishing House, 412-417 Eighth Street, Oakland.

Will S. Green

The country has often lost far less by the death of a more famous man than Will S. Green, the veteran editor of the Colusa Sun, but few men pass away so sincerely lamented by such a wide circle of thoughtful men of all classes and conditions.

Mr. Green's life was in the highest degree useful, heartening and beneficent. He not only labored to promote the material well-being of society, but he strove to make society better and sweeter. He wished for universal happiness as heartily as a man could wish it. His idea of national greatness was a smiling land, full of peace, plenty and contentment. He dreamed of a society governed by justice, charity and benevolence and animated by industry, thrift and hospitality—where no man sought advantage over his neighbor, but lived in accord with him, and strove for a better citizenship and a higher ideal of national aspiration.

Mr. Green was a pioneer of California, coming here in 1849, and no citizen ever gave the State more loyal devotion or more valuable service. Born in Kentucky of English stock, transplanted to Virginia, he grew to manhood's estate with few adventitious aids to fortune, which indeed he never zealously sought or esteemed highly for its own sake. He learned little in schools, his scholastic training being limited to a few irregular terms in an "old field school." But he inherited from his ancestors sturdy common sense and a taste for books; from his immediate progenitors cultured sympathies and aspirations. In the main he was self-educated so far as learning is concerned and self-taught in the matter of technical skill.

He was a man who adapted himself easily to conditions and to whatever society he happened to be cast, yet his individuality was strong and striking and his independence of thought marked. He was never lacking in sound reasons for his convictions nor backward in expressing his opinions, though his catholicity of spirit and broad toleration held him back from inflicting wounds or giving offense. A man of kindlier heart never lived. California never had a better intentioned citizen. No man who ever figured in the politics of this State was cleaner of hand and heart than he, and no man was ever more unselfishly solicitous for the public welfare. In the varied activities of a long life, fifty-six years of which were passed in California, he was never guilty of an act that called for defense or apology or ever laid himself open to the suspicion of being other than a patriot and an honest man.

By turns he was a mail carrier, a ferryman, a river pilot, a surveyor and a newspaper editor. He conducted the Colusa Sun with marked ability for more than forty years. He was always a pioneer. He came to California in 1849, he took the first ferry across Carquinez Straits; he piloted the first steamboat at low water into the upper Sacramento; he was the first notable advocate of irrigation in this State. He was a leading authority on irrigation and river drainage up to the day of his death. He was among the first to take up the cudgels against the destruction to the streams and valley lands wrought by hydraulic mining. He taught diversified farming; advocated small farms and intensive cultivation; preached the gospel of good roads; was an exponent of fruit culture, and in every way strove to make agriculture a profitable and attractive pursuit. His voice and pen were ever active in behalf of truth, temperance and progress.

He served the public officially as Assemblyman, Surveyor-General and State Treasurer, and every trust reposed in him was faithfully administered. But it was as Will S. Green of the Colusa Sun that he was best known and most respected. He lifted rural journalism to a high plane, invested it with a dignity seldom attained. He wrote seriously, kindly and wisely, and he was read with respect, because he wrote from conviction and knowledge and from a wholesome sense of public spirit. For years prior to his death he was the dean of the editorial profession in California, an honor that became him well and which he worthily merited. He honored the profession more than it honored him. In all respects he was a good man.

The action of Admiral Kruger in sending his crews ashore in Sevastopol, drawing his fires and disabling his guns is significant. It is proof that he could no longer depend upon the loyalty and obedience of his men. The peculiar actions of the fleet at Odessa indicate that the sailors either refused to fire on their mutinous comrades aboard the Knaiz Potemkin or showed by their actions that they were so disaffected themselves that they would mutiny if crossed very much. It was probably this condition that decided Admiral Kruger to put his ships out of commission. In all likelihood he was afraid of the mutiny spreading. The incident illustrates the utter disorganization in the Russian military and naval organization. It is symptomatic of dissolution.

While the Kaiser is bullying France it is to be observed that German military prestige is getting some severe jolts in Southwest Africa. Fuzzy Wuzzy is putting up a good fight against the German troops, and has made a "killing" in several recent engagements.

The story sent out from Washington to the effect that many Senators and Representatives who favored the Esch-Townsend bill have been refused passes by the railroads by way of punishing them for their legislative acts is open to grave doubt. Railroad managers are not fools, and they would be doing issue in regard to passes over the thing probably originated in the fertile respondent.

The Wallace Incident

In denying the report that John the Panama Canal Commission, is thorough Transit Company, August well deserved kick to Wallace. He treated the government badly, and he is in breaking a contract he had delinquently renewed. Under the circularization of Wallace's conduct appeared defense, Wallace practically admits that War charged against him, and the amounts to a confession of breach of contract. He came away from Panama with his doing the service of the government not actually accepted the offer of a War Secretary scornfully kicked his play of words, a pettifogging excuse of merit of guilt.

Mr. Belmont's biting words in engineer Wallace may be he is not to And reports from the isthmus state-tivity capacity have been overrated. canal construction as speedily and left Panama with the force in some Nor did he keep in as close touch with as exigencies demanded, and made cratic methods.

It is not improbable that the him from the United States came as engineer of the Canal Commission. ment he was drawing a salary of $15 the Illinois Central Railroad. As omission he was paid a salary of $25,000 and lived in a house furnished by the government. He was lauded for his ability and engineering skill by the press of the country, and was immediately in demand by high-priced periodicals as a writer of articles dealing with engineering subjects, the Panama canal in particular. This all tended to give him an exaggerated idea of his own importance and probably caused others to overrate him as an engineer.

As a fact, John F. Wallace has no engineering feat of the first magnitude to his credit. A score of engineers have far surpassed anything he ever did in railroad engineering, and he cannot claim to be a specialist in canal construction. One of the great engineering works of this country is to be credited to John F. Wallace, and why he should be deemed an engineer of such transcendent ability passes comprehension. He may turn out to be only a bladder blown up by his own conceit and the breath of public fame.

PRESIDENT WHEELER OUGHT TO READ THE CONSTITUTION.

President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California made a speech at the commencement exercises of Dartmouth College in which he spoke of the sadness of "lives pursued by wealth." He toasted the idle rich and therein did right. But, when he favors national laws for divorce, on the ground that "we are a nation and must have national laws for national concerns," we are reminded that Mr. Wheeler is, after all, a mere specialist in Greek.

Divorce is not a national concern and certainly it is not a national concern of this nation, whose concerns as a nation are plainly specified by a constitution that we recommend to President Wheeler's attention. His mind will be broadened to a greater extent by the perusal of section eight of the constitution of the United States than by ages spent in mastering the eccentricities of the aorist.

Sometimes we are tempted to say to these schoolmasters, who, as heads of universities, deem themselves called upon to pass on every conceivable question as one having authority, that the plain, common people are not precisely dullards, that they actually possess acquaintance with a few things more than gowned pedants are willing to believe, and that a member of a county board of supervisors knows more of the practical needs of the taxpayers, and has a better grasp of the theory upon which the American nation is founded, than nine-tenths of the university presidents in the whole country.

No university president ever knew all things, and Benjamin Ide Wheeler is especially far from omniscience.—Nevada City Miner-Transcript.

A CHINESE VIEW OF EXCLUSION

THE TRADE BOYCOTT DISCUSSED FROM A CHINESE STANDPOINT.

If the mere threat of a boycott by the merchants of China can produce consternation at Washington, it is reasonable to suppose that the real article will be very disastrous to the business of America. One result of the threat is already apparent. President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft are alarmed, and Secretary Metcalf is offering only and evasive excuses for the delinquencies in his department. Of these three gentlemen, who assume to direct the relations which exist between this country and China, Secretary Taft appears to be about the only one who has anything like a clear conception of the situation. At the Cabinet meeting held last week (the last meeting for the summer) these gentlemen gave their views, as far as they have any views, upon the Exclusion Law. Secretary Taft alone understood the matter. The President was a spectator for information. Secretary Metcalf did not rise above the level of the average conceptions of the hordes of inspectors and detectives who misapprehend the law.

Secretary Taft struck the key-note when he uttered these words: "The trouble is due to the mistakes made in the administration of the law more than to the law itself. If less time were spent in trying to find evidence against innocent Chinamen it would be better, as many Chinamen have been arrested who ought not to have been given this trouble."

Secretary Metcalf met this pivotal affirmation with worn-out statements supposed to be popular with the masses, the sum of which is that the law is not harshly administered; that seventy-seven students were admitted last year, that Chinese merchants refuse to furnish proof of their innocence of fraud in the matter of certificates until they are shown that the certificates are fraudulent, and that you cannot believe a Chinaman anyhow. The Secretary's logic is charmingly absurd.

The President, still ill-informed and unrepresentative of the merits of the case, closed the meeting by the utterance of thunderous tones and with all the ardor of his strenuous nature, the startlingly original order: "Let justice be done," and then skipped out for Oyster Bay for the summer.

The foregoing is the substance of the meeting of the Cabinet as reported in the papers. Following the last meeting of the Cabinet, the President and his Secretary of Commerce and Labor have issued documents upon the subject. Stripped of their verbiage, we find that these papers contain nothing pertinent to the prospective commercial clash between the two nations. They endorse the harsh application of the Exclusion Law, and at the same time proclaim that just and fair treatment shall be dealt to the Chinaman. They tell the gangs of minor officials to proceed in the way they are going. They do not suggest that the conduct of their officers shall be investigated to determine their ability to administer the law; that undue things imposed by individual inspectors upon timid applicants for admission should be inquired into; that the machinery of the courts should be examined to learn whether or not undue lubrication of the wheels has been employed, in short, that an honest inquiry be made to learn if the subordinates of the department are not guilty of practices more fraudulent than those they allege against the incoming Chinese merchant.

It is quite a lot of work we here prescribed for honorable Secretary, and perhaps he is entirely right. But the point of danger is now reached, and vigorous steps are necessary to manfully meet the emergency. The Chinese merchants are earnest in the proposal to withdraw their trade from parties who have elected to treat them with ignominy. The suggestion they would do so has filled the Federal Administration with alarm. Even Secretary Metcalf cites with fear the circumstance that nineteen or twenty millions of trade per year in cotton goods alone may be withheld. Dispatches are coming from Hong-kong and elsewhere indicating the tone of the Chinese commercial world. Commercial bodies in this country are pleading with the Federal Administration for common justice to the business community of China, and predict financial troubles of their own if their just pleadings are unheeded.

China is not hard to deal with. It wants only common justice. If the United States is impotent to administer laws of its own making, and, at the dictation of greed-inspired politicians, afflict an innocent nation by abrogating such laws in practice while uttering hypocritical professions of good faith, the suffering party is justified in ceasing to regard the merchants of the offending nation as worthy of their confidence and trade.—San Francisco Chinese Free Press.

GENERAL GREEN HAS PASSED AWAY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—General W. S. Green, Colusa, died yesterday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock, in St. Luke's Hospital, from gastro enteritis, a complaint brought on by serious stomach troubles. With him at the time were his daughters, Mrs. Garrett McEnerny and Mrs. Ralston. An operation was performed on General Green Saturday, and from the effects of which he seemed to rally. It being reported at midnight of Saturday that he was resting easily. But even so, his case was deemed so serious that his daughters were summoned to his side.

General Green was actively engaged in public life as editor of the Colusa Sun and other ways up to a week ago, when he was stricken with his illness. His case grew so serious that on Thursday of last week he was brought to the city and taken to the hospital.

General W. S. Green stood in the fore rank of the leading men of California. He held many offices, public and un-Official His life work, however, lay in his unremitting efforts to further the development of the Colusa valley. He was editor of the Sacramento valley region, where he fought the fight for industrial, agricultural and intellectual progress. He was editor of the Colusa Sun, and otherwise, ever since 1884. He obtained control of the Colusa Sun in 1889, but he had been its editor since 1883.

He was born in Russell county, Ky., December 16, 1837. He came to California in 1854. He lived at Benicia until July 2, 1881, when he started for Colusa on the steamer Colusa, arriving at the town on July 25. Since that time he has been a resident of the county, and was for many years the "oldest inhabitant" of the town. He was a cultured and well-read man, versed in science and literature, a civil engineer of standing, he was a self-made man, having been thrown upon his own resources when a small boy, the extent of his formal education being a year or two in an "old field school."

While at Benicia, General Green ran the first steam ferry across the straits of Carquinez and had the first mail contract let in the State, with the exception of the one from San Francisco to the old town of Sonoma, and he carried all the mail for Napa and Sonoma counties in the winter and did not lose a day in the pocket. He was pilot of the steamer Colusa that carried him to Colusa, and was the first to make a low-water boat into the waters of the Sacramento river. He became so enthusiastic over the prospects of the Sacramento valley as a field for agriculture that he abandoned his first intention of going to the mines.

He was United States Surveyor-General in San Francisco under President Cleveland's second administration. He also served as State Engineer during Governor Budd's term of office. He was the first president elected by the California Press Association, and was one of the best known newspaper writers in the West.

He was president of the Sacramento Valley Development Association, and was connected with many other enterprises. As editor of the Colusa Sun he was a power in politics.

LIFE AS LIVED BY NOTED PERSONS MAN WANTS TO SELL HIS TWO HEARTS HOME

HERE'S THE HOURLY LIFE OF SOME NOTED PERSONS

Take a Glance Into the Privacy of Patti, Paderewski and Sir Hiram Maxine—Learn What These People Do.

Adelina Patti lives for her voice. Before breakfast, which she takes at 8:30, she stands before an open window and inhales deeply. It suits her voice. She devotes very little time to the newspapers, for her husband, Baron Cederstrom, regularly keeps her posted, in a few words, as to the progress of events.

She has an enormous private correspondence, for she has probably a wider circle of personal friends than any other lady in the world, and she knows more members of royal families than any royal personage one could name. To this correspondence she herself attends, and it forms one of her favorite recreations.

By 11 o'clock her letters are ready for the post, and she calls a few of her pet dogs and goes for a stroll in her beautifully wooded grounds. She rarely misses her morning walk, gentle outdoor exercise being, in her opinion, the best possible tonic. "It is capital for keeping the throat healthy," she often says, "and it suits my voice."

She doesn't care to be bound down to any fixed hour for lunch, which she takes at any time between midday and 2 p. m. After that, a drive—to call upon a neighbor, in bad weather, or, on a bright day, simply to some point in the hills from which a particularly fine view may be obtained. Here she frequently makes a rough sketch of the view, elaborating it in water colors afterward.

Returned from her drive she visits all her pets.

She never "practices" her voice. Public performances are all the practice it needs, and she sings at home for royal visitors only. On days when she is to sing she talks almost in a whisper.

PADEREWSKI.

Paderewski, the world's greatest pianist, strongly objects to early rising. When he is up at 9, he calls himself an "early bird." While breakfast is being prepared his valet rubs his fingers, kneads the palms of his hands and cracks his knuckles. He endures this agony for the purpose of keeping his hands and fingers very sensitive and supple. Meanwhile, he smokes cigarettes.

Breakfast over he goes to the piano and practices for two or three hours. Then follows a game of billiards, which is absolutely the only recreation which enables him to forget his music.

Having submitted to another course of hand-kneading and knuckle-cracking, he takes lunch, which fits him for another three hours of steady piano practice. He dines at 6:30, and then practices for another half-hour before going to a recital. A bowl of hot water is always ready for him whenever he is to play in public, and he invariably holds his hands in it a few moments before stepping upon the platform.

SIR HIRAM MAXINE.

Up at 6 every morning, and hard at work, puzzling out his latest invention before he is half-dressed, is Sir Hiram Maxine. He is a strong believer in an eight-hour day—"Eight hours before and eight hours after dinner," he says. He acts up to his belief, too. He breaks his fast at 8:30, and works the while—thinking. He dines at 2, but still he works—thinking.

In the afternoon he makes a tour of his workshops, and as he is a practical mechanic in any department he frequently stops to show a workman the proper way to use a tool, and his men are unanimous in the opinion that he can get through twice as much work as any one of them at any bench in his workshops.

He takes tea at 7 o'clock, but still he does not cease to work. He spends his evening answering letters from people claiming the $50,000 he offers to anyone who has an idea for a flying machine which can fly. "I am old," he says, "but as I neither drink nor smoke, I am tough, so I still hope to see that flying machine." This is his thought as he goes to bed at midnight.

THIS MAN OFFERS TO SELL TWO HEARTS.

"I agree to sell my two hearts, the buyer being entitled to same after my death.—A Durr, care Central Hotel, New Rochelle, N. Y."

NEW YORK, July 3.—The above advertisement appeared in a New York newspaper yesterday, and it is a bona fide representation of a peculiar freak of nature that is exciting the scientific interest of medical specialists all over the country.

Through a trifling indisposition which necessitated an examination by a physician, Mr. Durr discovered that he was possessed of two perfectly formed hearts, working regularly and causing him no inconvenience.

News of the peculiar find spread in the medical world, and within a short time Mr. Durr had received an offer of $10,000 from a prominent specialist to permit him to remove one of the hearts. Mr. Durr refused, fearing that he would not survive the operation and would thereby be deprived of the enjoyment of the money, but the offer awakened a new train of ideas in his mind, and yesterday's advertisement was the result.

Mr. Durr's friends say that he has received a score of offers for his body after death from prominent specialists who have visited him, but he declines to make any of the offers public, intending to allow the scientific men to keep on bidding until a price is named which will enable him to enjoy to the full the advantage of the bounties that nature has bestowed upon him.

He is thirty-five years old, unmarried and the picture of health. He works every day, leads a regular life and in appearance is as normal as any man who is heart single and fancy free.

HOW TO MAKE SUMMER ICES.

Nearly every woman can make ice cream of the plain ordinary sort, and if she is ambitious to excel, she may, by putting on a few extra touches, produce frozen delicacies that rival those of the big hotels and leading cafes.

There is a new freezer for household use which will make two kinds of cream at one time. A partition across the center of the can keeps the mixtures separated, and the handle, instead of turning all the way around, goes back and forth with a rocking motion. Otherwise the freezer is similar to any other of standard pattern. For a small dinner party or a summer luncheon it is often nice to serve two kinds of ice. This may be done with the greatest ease in the new freezer.

Fancy creams are always a pleasant surprise to the family or guests, and they are really so easy to prepare that one might as well make bisque ice cream or a tasty sherbet as commonplace vanilla. Frozen desserts are divided into four classes by the cookery experts—ice creams, water ices, sherbets, frozen puddings, custards.

The best ice cream is almost without exception based on a quart of pure cream—no milk—mixed with the other ingredients, to make two quarts when frozen. All cream and no milk gives it that delicious softness for which certain creams are famous and which neither cornstarch nor gelatin can successfully imitate. Most persons, however, prefer the proportion of cream two parts and milk and one part, with sweetening to taste.

BISQUE ICE CREAM.

For a dinner where there are to be invited guests, bisque ice cream is always appropriate. Five macaroons, and a couple of lady fingers—preferably slightly stale—are placed in the oven to get crisp. Roll them out on a plate board until they are ground to a fine powder and then beat up with a quart of cream. It will take about half a pound of sugar to sweeten; flavor with a few drops of vanilla and lemon juice and about eight tablespoonfuls of sherry wine. Half of the cream may be boiled separately with the sugar, or the entire quantity whipped up after the macaroons are added.

Ices made after the French recipe are delicious. Here is the method of making peach ice cream in the Parisian style: Slice and shred six peaches or use half a can of preserved peaches. Boil a tumbler of water and half a pound of sugar and add to it when skimmed and cool the yolks of five eggs beaten to a stiff froth. Into this

SOCIETY FOLKS GO TO THE COUNTRY.

Arthur Aikin is Soon to Take a Bride.

Miss Gwendolyn Silcott last Saturday night became the bride of James J. Van Hovenberg. The wedding took place at the home of R. G. Wilson, 508 East Twenty-third street, Rev. Charles Walkley performing the ceremony. The wedding was a quiet affair, no one being present but the family of the bride and groom and a few intimate friends.

Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for San Francisco, from which place they will leave tomorrow for Los Angeles and a tour through the south. Although the groom is a resident of Eureka and the bride a resident of Oakland, there was nothing in the ceremony that would indicate that they had lived over 200 miles apart during most of the time they had known each other. But with the assistance of Uncle Sam railroads, telephones and telegraphs always at hand, the young man did not have to ride out of the West and wrest his prize by force or romantic derring.

The young couple have known each other for about a year. During that time Mr. Van Hovenberg has been practicing law in Eureka.

GOES ON A VACATION.

E. J. Crowley, who for years has been a trusted employee of the Contra Costa Water Company, has severed his connection with that company and has gone to the Yosemite Valley with his wife for a vacation of two weeks. Upon their return he will engage in other pursuits.

WILL GO TO PORTLAND.

Assemblyman J. V. Burke and Deputy City Tax Collector Jos. L. Coughlin will leave Tuesday evening, July 4, for the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland. They expect to remain away three weeks and during that time will visit Seattle, Tacoma and Victoria, where several of their old college friends are engaged in business.

HOUSE PARTY.

Mrs. George Samuels gave a delightful house party last week at her beautiful country residence, Rose Terrace, at Los Gatos. Among her guests were: Mrs. Phil Journal, Mrs. Vincent Chloupek, Mrs. J. Fitzgerald, Miss Basch, Miss Jennie Steen, Miss Tessie Samuels, Miss Emma Heyman, Mrs. Rebecca Schwartz, Miss Stella Stein, M. Samuels and Mr. Kuhna.

WHIST TOURNAMENT.

Loyal Temple Rathbone Sisters will give a whist tournament on Monday evening, July 2, at Foresters' Hall, Thirteenth and Clay. Nine valuable prizes have been secured by the following committee: Sisters Green, Thompson and Mann.

FIVE HUNDRED PARTY.

Mrs. Ely Schwartzbaum gave a delightful five hundred party on Thursday evening, July 18, at her country residence, Jennie Ray Terrace, at Los Gatos. Among her guests were Miss Helen Ellis, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. Jennie Levy, Mrs. George Samuels, Mrs. Vincent Chloupek, Mrs. Phil Journal, M. Samuels and Doctor King.

city girl and gifted musician of Alameda, is to become, at 8 o'clock next Thursday evening, July 5, the bride of Dr. Norman Henderson, a dentist of note, also of the island city. The Rev. Frank Brush will officiate at the ceremony, which will be witnessed only by relatives and a few friends. There are to be no attendants, save the bride's sister, Miss Jennie McKean, who will be the maid of honor. Following the ceremony, however, there will be a large reception at 8:30, for which many invitations have been issued.

Dr. Anderson and his bride will take quite an extended wedding trip, returning home in August, when they will be at home to their friends at 1345 Versailles Avenue.

AT THE FAIR.

Mrs. L. P. Crane and her mother, Mrs. E. H. Elliott, left Saturday evening for Portland to spend a few weeks at the Fair. Mr. Elliott will join them later at Portland.

GO ON A TRIP.

Mrs. J. Colman, wife of the pioneer furniture man, at 412 Fourteenth street, has left with her two daughters, Misses Myrtle and Florence, for an extended trip through the southern part of the State. They will stop over a few days at the Sea Beach Hotel, Santa Cruz. They expect to be back about July 21.

GOES ON AN OUTING.

Miss Annibell C. MacLeod leaves next week for a month's outing near Healdsburg, to be a guest of Miss Alyce Osborne at the Osborne ranch. Later they have planned a delightful camping trip to the Geysers and many places of interest.

PERSONALS.

Miss Mildred Gray Ahlf of Colusa is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Amos Roberts at Fifteenth and Grove streets. Miss Gladys Courtman and Miss Mabel Poole have left with a party of

ARTHUR GATES AIKIN.

The wedding of Arthur Gates Aikin, of 1213 Jefferson street, to Miss Clarice Camille Lovely, of Webster street, San Francisco, will take place at the bride's home, 2719 Webster street, next Wednesday, July 5. Mr. Aikin has long been a resident of this city, and is the manager of a wholesale business in San Francisco. The bride-to-be is a niece of Nathan Gantz, of this city, and a charming young lady of many accomplishments. The wedding will be distinctly a home affair, and the number of guests limited accordingly.

Miss Helen Chandler, of 2815 Channing way, Berkeley, left on the Santa Fe limited on Thursday for Ipswich, Mass., to attend the Dow Summer School of Art. She will return about October 1, and open a studio in Oakland.

Dr. Lu Ella Cool-Walker left July 1 for a ten days' visit to the Portland Fair.

flavored may be used or you can add for flavoring a teaspoonful of vanilla or a wineglass of any pure fruit syrup. Freeze the same as ice cream.

It is quite an art to make water ices and some patience is required. By far the better method is to boil the water and sugar, but if you wish to turn it out quickly, you may freeze the ingredients without heating. Strawberry water ice, easily made, take one quart of berries worked through a fine sieve, with a quarter-pound of sugar. A teaspoon of syrup, the juice of a lemon and a scant quart of water are added. Then freeze slowly, giving the handle a few turns at a time, leaving it for awhile and returning to give it a few more turns. It may take three hours before the mass is solid, but the longer it stands after freezing the better it will be in flavor. Nearly all of the fruit ices are made in the same way as the strawberry.

Sherbets and frozen fruits are almost identical with water ices. Sherbets are thickened by the beater whites of a couple of eggs stirred in with a little pulverized sugar and added when the mixture is just becoming stiff. Frozen fruits are simply water ices with the fruit cut into small pieces instead of being mashed. Some good general directions for the freezing of ice cream are: Chop the ice very fine; the finer the closer it will lie packed against the can and the sooner will the contents freeze.

The correct proportion of ice and rock salt is three parts of the former to one of the latter.

Do not start by churning violently, let the motion of the handle be even and regular.

If there is plenty of time to spare between the making and serving there will be no necessity for churning the ice cream until it is hard. When it becomes fairly stiff you may save yourself further exertion by removing the dasher and giving the cream a few brisk turns with a big spoon. Repack the can, whirl it for a minute or two without the paddle, and cover it over with a piece of burlap. By replenishing the ice and salt every half hour and pouring off the water the cream will freeze hard of its own accord.

SERVING ICE CREAM.

To serve ice cream in molds, have a small tub or bucket ready, filled with ice and rock salt as above. Fill the

EPIGRAMS TAKEN FROM "WOMAN'S CONFESSIONAL."

In Them the Author Reveals the Secrets of Her Heart and Shows She Lived, Loved and Learned.

The Life Publishing Company issues an unusual little volume, "A Woman's Confessional," by Helen Wojeska—that is Mrs. Wojeska appears not exactly as author of the epigrams that make up the book, but as their collector. She says: "The woman whose journal is contained in the following pages died several years ago. I had the privilege of knowing her during the last months of her life. After her death her few belongings fell to me. Among them I found these small, worn volumes of her journals—the record of an ardent life."

"The small scattered leaves of her journal," writes Mrs. Wojeska, "bear witness that she has lived and loved and erred." They also bear witness that bitter experiences gave her a good insight into human nature.

EXTRACTS FROM "A WOMAN'S CONFESSIONAL."

The aim of living is to enjoy one's self. Give yourself freely to every emotion. Whatever you may be—be perfectly. Whatever you may possess—enjoy perfectly. Whatever you may regret—forget perfectly.

If parents use tyranny, children use deceit.

If they believe in you, be true. If they mistrust you, deceive.

Resignation is only laziness.

If it is true that there are two kinds of affection—one for the woman he loves and one for the woman he respects—I will never be respectable.

I would rather find beauties in something plain than blemishes in something beautiful.

Instead of trying to correct the faults of others try to tolerate them.

A woman is always handsome if she lives fully and proudly. After the pretty spring she will not wither and fade, but develop into the glowing summer—the superb autumn—the sublime winter.

Don't bother about the others. Be yourself. There will always be some to approve and some to disapprove, no matter what you do or don't do.

Art need not be respectable to be admirable. Rather than be pitied I would be hated any time.

Ninety-nine people go out to join the wild hunt for happiness. And the hundredth man stays comfortably at home and wins it.

Love for which you must work is not love. I do not want it.

I hate all compromise. It must be everything or nothing.

I think if a man and woman live together because they love each other, they do right. And if they live together without love they do wrong, under all circumstances.

I do not want to vote. The only woman's right I claim is the right of saying a pretty little fib whenever I feel like it.

Take people as they are and keep your opinion to yourself. They will not be taught, anyhow.

A woman must love a man much more deeply to become his mistress than to become his wife, because a wife receives in return for her love a position, home and a protector for life, while a mistress loses all these forever.

Love is like magic gold. The more you spend the more you have. I do not lose any time hating anybody. I need it for other things.

The people who mean all they say are adorable. Those who say all they mean are fools.

Nothing is wrong except the ugly.

Love is not a thing that comes to us from the outside. It is in us, and settles in turn on the different men who happen to be near us. Our lovers change, our love remains.

While love lasts I enjoy it. When it is over—je m'en fiche!

The more man sacrifice for you the more they care for you. And the more you sacrifice for them the less you care for them.

There is humanness of intellect as well as of body.

We must not let anything become stronger than ourselves—no love, no hate, no habit. We must always remain superior, harmonious, well-balanced—the judge, the ruler, the king.

To forgive is wise. To forget is foolish. One must not blame the boat for being rudderless. But one must not trust it again.

Pleasures whose price is out of proportion to their value are called vices.

Diluted affection goes a long way. But I like concentrated essence. The most contemptible thing on earth is not to have enough strength and courage to be true to one's self.

If people have wronged you it is not always wise to insist upon the fact. Give them the chance to forget.

Pity is the worst of insults, because it is the sincerest of all.

I will never again be reasonable. The woman who is reasonable is the greatest fool of all.

As a citizen be just. As a friend be a little biased—in my favor. Tact is kindness with brains.

It must be terrible to be blind. But it must be more terrible to have a soul dark with hatred and fear. Better light within than without.

Unbridled love is free. And its followers are the slaves of slaves. When vice is beautiful it should be called virtue.

The best antidote for an inconvenient question is another. You may hurry if you want to. But events will not be rushed. They come in their own time.

Every woman ought to have two or three years completely to herself, when she belongs no longer to her parents and not yet to her husband. Then she will have opportunity to find her own self and develop her own self, without letting thoughts for any one else interfere.

A woman should be free to give herself when she loves, and only when she loves.

There is one sorrow for which philosophy has no consolation—that is, to have caused the suffering of one you love.

Love is a beautiful plant. The root is friendship and the flower is passion.

DRIVES HER HUSBAND HITCHED TO A PLOW!

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 3.—The spectacle of a man being driven to a plow, hitched with a pony to make the team, greeted the eyes of W. H. Gibbens, field officer of the Humane Society, when he responded to a call over the radio. Mr. Gibbens was notified that there was a case of cruelty to animals at the place which required his immediate attention. Although out of the city limits, he decided to investigate the case.

"I found on looking up the call," said Mr. Gibbens, "that it was a case of cruelty to husband. A 300-pound woman was driving, hitched to a plow, a team which consisted of a small pony and her husband. The man weighed about 125 pounds, and was doing his best to keep up with the pony."

"Although it was a little out of my line, I told the woman that she must change her method of tilling the soil and get either another horse or another man. She got the horse."

FERRY COMPETITION, IN THE HARBOR

Piper Aden-Goodall Underbids Diamond and Seeks to Secure Some of S. P. Patronage.

The Piper Aden-Goodall Company, which is engaged in bay and river freighting has entered into competition in the matter of the trans-bay freight between San Francisco and Oakland and has been successful in securing the contract for the carrying, between the points mentioned, all the consignments committed to the Austin Freight and Transportation Company, which operates eight of the largest kind of trucks in this city.

DIMOND'S CONDITIONS.

This freight has heretofore been handled for the Austin people by the Dimond Freight and Express line and was lost to it because it fixed prices and conditions to which the Austin people objected. Whereupon, the Piper Aden-Goodall Company made a proposition to the business and the proposition was accepted by the Austin Freight and Transportation Company.

INTO EFFECT TODAY.

The new arrangement went into effect today, the Piper Aden people putting their steamer Sunol on the run between San Francisco and Oakland which made its first trip by carrying at the wharf on the north side of the harbor and immediately south of what is known as the Webster street warehouse which is owned by the city.

LIVELY FREIGHT FIGHT.

Tails competition is, it is believed the fore-runner of a lively fight between the Dimond and the Piper-Aden people, the extent of which can not now be foretold, the commencement of which took place some months ago when both the companies bid for the city warehouse on the wharf at the foot of Franklin street. The Dimond Company, at that time was in possession as lessee of the premises and offered to pay for the same a rental of $87 per month, while the Piper-Aden Goodall Company offered for the same a rental of $400.

BIG RAISE IN THE OFFER.

In view of the fact that the highest rental previously paid for this warehouse was $75 per month, it was felt that either "bad blood" had arisen between the rival companies or else the transportation business was more remunerative than the promoters were willing to admit.

The Council was surprised with the liberality of the offer and when it passed to consider the bids, the $400 offer of the Piper Aden-Goodall Company was withdrawn, and the Dimond company has since been allowed to retain possession of the warehouse which had been the object of such close bidding without new adjustment of the rental.

AUSTIN OUSTED.

This warehouse, however, was jointly shared by the Austin Freight and Transportation Company, because the latter was the patron of the Dimond ferry, but that transportation company now that it has gone over to the Piper Aden-Goodall Company with its freighting business has been ordered out of the structure which is controlled by the Dimond line, which, will hereafter use the building itself.

WEBSTER STREET HOUSE

Accordingly the Austin Freight and Transportation Company today received the freight from the Piper Aden-steamers Sunol in the Webster street warehouse of which no individual or concern has a lease from the city in order to enable the Sunol to discharge its cargo, this morning the steamer Mt Eden the property of the Dimond Freight and Express line which has been moored to the wharf at that place for some time was transferred to the lee of the freight warehouse controlled by the Dimond concern.

EFFECT OF TRANSFER.

The transfer of the patronage of the Austin Company to the Piper Aden-Goodall people, the Dimond manager said, will not cripple their enterprise. They have they allege controlled a large amount of business outside that which they received from the Austin people and which is, in itself remunerative.

EXPRESSMEN AND DRAYMEN.

It is intimated that to this business will be added quite an amount of the freight which the Southern Pacific steamer Bay City, which makes a round trip only every two hours is unable to accommodate for the Expressmen and Draymen's Association of Alameda county.

The Piper Aden-Goodall Company, however, have an eye on this business, and indeed upon all hauled by the Southern Pacific in this harbor, also, and on the 12th of this month will have a conference with the Transportation Committee of the Expressmen and Draymen's Association on the subject in San Francisco.

SILENT AS TO FIGURES.

Neither the Dimond the Piper Aden-people nor the Austin people would shed light as to what were the transportation rates which lost and which won the day but THE TRIBUNE reporter has been informed that the facts are these. The Dimond company had been charging and receiving from the Austin company 60 cents for each ton of freight carried and demanded 75 cents per ton or else 65 cents with a guaranty of 1400 tons per month. This guarantee the Austin people refused to give, whereupon an unconditional offer of the Piper Aden-Goodall Company of 65 cents per ton was accepted by Austin. The income at this rate for 1400 tons per month, as demanded by the Dimond company, would be $910. The cost of labor for the running of the steamer Dimond, to nothing of coal and incidental expenses amounted to about $800 per month leaving a profit on Austin's business of only about $110, a small sum considering the responsibility, which of course would have to be increased from other patronage.

Competition has thus become three-cornered in Oakland harbor and the result of the next few months along these lines will be watched with interest by shippers on both side of the bay.

ADAMS JURY COULD NOT AGREE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—After being out for twenty-six hours the jury in the case of Minnie Adams, charged with the murder of her two-year-old boy, was unable to agree and at 5:40 o'clock last night was discharged by Judge Lawlor. It was stated that the final ballot of the jury stood seven for acquittal and five for conviction, and it was the unanimous opinion of the body that a verdict by it could never be arrived at. The woman sat in cold as an icy statue while the jury which held her fate was being polled before dismissal. When the jury was discharged she made but little comment, her face suffered years, she said, "for a crime of which I was not guilty. I must bear it and suffer more."

Minnie Adams is alleged to have murdered her baby on March 13, 1899. It was claimed that she fed it a deadly draft of carbolic acid out of hatred for its father, John Richard Gray. She was convicted of the crime and took the verdict as coldly as she took the disagreement yesterday. After being in the County Jail for several years the Supreme Court granted Mrs. Adams a new trial. Its result has been a disagreement, but a decision on her case is not far off. Both the prosecution and defense have signified an intention of laying the matter as soon as possible before another jury. The setting of the case at an early date will be made by Judge Lawlor one week from today.

Every effort was made to secure a verdict of some kind out of the present jury. After its long session a woman Sanborn was finally obliged to announce to Judge Lawlor that no verdict was in sight. Judge Lawlor questioned each of the jurors as to the probability of a verdict and received a negative answer in every instance. Then the jury was dismissed and Minnie Adams was sent back to her cell to await a third trial.

At the time of her first trial Minnie Adams was young and rather pretty. During her years of life at the County Jail she does not appear to have aged a day and her face does not bear a single line of care. She listened to the strongest evidence against her without the slightest sign of animation. Only when her love for the baby which, it is alleged, she fully murdered, was told about did she break down. Then she buried her face in her hands and shed a flood of tears.

NEWS OF THE DAY FROM THE SUBURBS

BOY IS INJURED

Oscar Helland Has Painful Accident.

FRUITVALE, July 3.—Oscar Helland, the son of J. Helland, a painter, was the victim of a peculiar and painful accident last Friday evening. The boy was playing hide and seek with his fellows near the family home on Hyde street, when he fell upon a piece of broken glass. The glass cut across his knee in such a manner as to take a piece out of the bone of the knee-cap.

A circular piece of his trousers and a round slice of skin were taken off by the rough knife. The piece of bone removed is the size and shape of a dime.

Dr. J. H. Callen was summoned and found the lad in great pain. The injury was not serious, and Oscar will be able to be about the house in a couple of weeks. The knee-cap was not entirely cut through and will soon heal.

CLASS REUNION.
Mr. and Mrs. A. Wolfe of Merrill avenue entertained the class of '05 of the Dewey School last week. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by the young people. Miss Harriet Reimnitz assisting in the entertainment.

Music and games were to amuse the guests until dinner was announced. At this time were pretty favors of burnt leather for every guest.

The house was beautifully decorated with flowers and Japanese lanterns. The guests were as follows: Professor J. C. Hammett, Edmond and Fred Wolfe, Kinton Robertson, Charles Armstrong, Scott Brewer, Neal Cleveland, Irvin Grader, Cecil Nelson and Bentley Wickliffe, Olga Anderson, Leola Doney, Elizabeth Godon, Mary Forrest, Emma Glover, Hilma Hendrickson, Belle Charlotte Horkanson, Leona McArthur, Louise Schaufeler.

DELEGATES CHOSEN.

At the meeting of the Ah Wah Nee Tribe of Red Men in Masonic Hall last Friday evening the members chose their delegates to the convention of California and Nevada, which will be held in Nevada City, Cal., beginning August 15. John Bridge, E. F. Van Alstine and F. L. Jordan received the coveted honor.

Commencing with this evening the Fruitvale Sanitary Board will sit as a Board of Equalization to settle the claims of those who think themselves improperly assessed.

Rev. Burton P. Palmer preached yesterday morning at the Congregational Church on Tenneyson's poem, "In Memoriam." In the evening his subject was "Adorning the Doctrine."

PIGS IN A BLAZE

Stock Destroyed in North Berkeley Fire.

BERKELEY, July 3.—As the result of an early morning blaze yesterday, livestock belonging to W. H. Emery were burned to death in a fire which destroyed his barn and windmill, at 1619 Hopkins street, in North Berkeley. A cow and several pigs perished in the flames. Two horses were safely removed.

The origin of the fire is not known. Emery was awakened at 3 a. m. yesterday by the stamping and whinnying of his horses. He found the barn in flames. The North Berkeley and Market engine companies formed a bucket brigade and saved the residence from destruction. The loss is estimated at $600.

Colombia is going to change to a gold basis. It will travel farther and be in better company.—New York Commercial.

BAD BLOOD INVITES DISEASE

The blood supplies nourishment and strength to every part of the body. When it is rich, pure and healthy, when from any cause it becomes diseased or weak it cannot supply the nutriment the system needs, and the body is unable to resist the diseases and troubles that are constantly assailing it to break down the health.

I have used S. S. S. and found it to be an excellent blood purifier and tonic. My blood was weak and impure, and as a result my system became very much run down and debilitated. I lost twenty or more pounds in weight, had no appetite and was in bad shape. Seeing S. S. S. advertised I began its use, and am well pleased with the results after using it for some little while. My system and general health have been wonderfully built up, and I no longer hesitate to give S. S. S. the credit for it. H. MARTIN.

Warren, O., 60 Second St.

Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Catarrh, Old Sores, Malaria, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are the results of bad or diseased blood, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and made pure, strong and healthy, these diseases will continue. The greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics is S. S. S. It has been curing all diseases of the blood for more than forty years by going down to the very roots of the trouble, forcing out all poisons and impurities and building up every part of the system by its fine tonic effect. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Catarrh, Old Sores, Malaria, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles, and cures them permanently. S. S. S. is the acknowledged king of blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics. Books on the different diseases, and any medical advice you may wish will be given without charge.

FILIPINO LAD TALKS OF LODGES IN CAMP

Pythian Knights Pitch Their Tents.

FELIPE BUENCAMINO.

Felipe Buencamino Denies Responsibility For Inflammatory Words of Erving Winslow.

BERKELEY, July 3.—Felipe Buencamino, general manager of the Filipino students' magazine, printed at the university, denies that the editorial board indorses the remarkable article by Hon. Erving Winslow contained in the issue of the magazine now current. Buencamino is a son of Felipe Buencamino in Manila, who holds an important position under the government. Buencamino Sr. was secretary of state for Aguinaldo when the Filipino chieftain ruled the islands. The younger is a student at the University of California.

In the current number of his magazine is the extraordinary article by Hon. Erving Winslow, secretary of the Anti-Imperialist League, addressed "To the Filipino students of America, in which he urges them to plan for their own independence," and to "speak the word which shall shame the United States, betrayed by ambitious rulers and the infatuation of the hour, into a return to the path which leads on to the true grandeur of the great constitutional republic, renouncing the companionship of the robber nations; the exemplar and upholder of the United States should be by moral and commercial influences, of liberty throughout the earth."

The Filipino students are advised by Winslow that they are under no obligation to the government at whose institutions they are acquiring an education. His words on this subject are as follows: "The Filipino students who are pursuing their studies in various institutions, are acquiring an education, without considering themselves hampered or bound by any debt of gratitude to the officials of an administration which is drawing money from the United States treasury, and representing them to the Philippines. It is their own countrymen who are really paying the expenses of these young men."

"HOLY JUMPERS" INVADE BERKELEY.

Unique Band of Notorious Street Preachers Startle University Town.

BERKELEY, July 3.—The Holy Jumpers have invaded Berkeley. The sect whose queer antics, while engaging in religious worship, excited consternation throughout the northwest has hitherto avoided the university town, but yesterday, for reasons known to the members of the queer aggregation, it was decided to hold a typical "Holy Jumper" street meeting on the town plaza.

A crowd of several hundred people was attracted by the extraordinary antics of the speakers and singers among the "Jumpers." For an hour the band held forth, almost blockading traffic on the corner of Shattuck and Center streets. Three women were included in the group of "Jumpers." They stood with eyes closed, part of the time that the services were in progress; apparently in a trance. Then, without warning, one or another of the women would jump, several feet in the air, while her associates clapped loudly in approval of the act.

It is supposed that the "Jumpers" came from San Francisco, as they boarded a Key Route train at the conclusion of the service. The Salvation Army and the Nazarenes conducted their usual service after the "Jumpers" had left, preaching seeming to have lost its charm after the exciting stunts performed by the "Holy Jumpers."

A lecture by Edwin Emerson, a war correspondent, and a reception to Secretary of War Taft and his party, including Miss Alice Roosevelt, on Friday.

Emerson's lecture will be the second of a series, the first having been delivered last Thursday night. The lecture he discussed the Manchurian campaign. His second address will have for its title: "In and Out of Port Arthur." Emerson is to relate his experiences while making the entry by sea into Port Arthur. Also, he will tell of how he was sent out of the port, to languish in a Japanese prison upon capture by the Japanese.

The reception to Secretary Taft is expected to attract thousands of visitors from communities around the bay. President Wheeler is to return from the East on Tuesday, and he will superintend the arrangements for the reception on Friday afternoon. In the Greek Theater, and a reception to Secretary Taft is to be given at this reception, and other distinguished citizens will make short speeches. The details of the program will not be announced until President Wheeler's return.

SAN LEANDRO, July 3.—Members of the local company of the Uniformed Rank of the Knights of Pythias went into camp last Saturday in San Mateo. They are to take part in the Fourth of July exercises there in conjunction with other California companies. The majority in the First Regiment, California Brigade, were present and are to assist in the exercises of the citizens of San Mateo.

In the encampment the men will use the same system as the United States regulars. Tents have been provided for sleeping, and the cooking is to be done in the open air by camp cooks. Daily drills will be a part of the routine.

George Chapin of Alameda, the colonel in command of the regiment, is in charge of the camp. The San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda, and San Leandro companies are represented.

MEET TOGETHER.
Last night the congregations of the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches united in a meeting at the Presbyterian edifice. They were addressed by Dr. E. L. Tiffany of Rochester, New York, who spoke at length on Christian citizenship. His remarks were given close attention by a large audience. Many of his sayings applied to the condition of affairs in this town.

PERSONAL NOTES.
Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. McWorthy left Saturday afternoon on a visit to friends in Santa Cruz. Howard Hoerst is to take the place of Mr. McWorthy in the rural carrier's route. Mrs. McWorthy is the school of the Methodist Church here.

Mrs. Cora Adis has returned to her home in Pasadena after a pleasant visit with Mrs. D. K. Pratt of this place. Dave Lennox, late of San Leandro, has returned to his old home in Oregon to reside.

R. B. Page returned yesterday from a long stay at the Alameda Sanitarium. He is much improved in health. Miss Lila Clark of East Oakland is spending her vacation with Miss Olga Christensen here.

The building formerly occupied by the Driver & Aber Company at the corner of San Lorenzo and Center streets is being repaired. A saloon will soon be installed there.

Mrs. McKee and her daughter Hortense are visiting at the home of the former, Mrs. F. Webber of San Leandro. Manuel Cloude and Tom Galvin came back from Vacaville last week, and expect soon to start for Chico to work in the canneries there.

M. Leal is the purchaser of two lots on the corner of Heppburn street and Middle avenue belonging to John Curtis.

Professor Harry Lincoff, the principal of the San Leandro Grammar School, left last Thursday for a north by steamer to spend his vacation.

T. W. Mulford is repairing his wharf on Alameda street. Camille Thier, Chester Burnett and Wm. Rogers are enjoying a week at King's ranch.

McArdie is to leave for Washington the day after tomorrow on a visit to relatives.

"CO-ED'S" SKILL

Ethel B. Ratcliff May Win Laurels.

BERKELEY, July 3.—Ethel Ratcliff was to be a champion, or not? The "co-ed" contingent in Berkeley awaits with unconcealed anxiety the result of the contest with racket and ball on the tennis court next Tuesday, in which Miss Ethel Ratcliff is to win at San Rafael either the women's championship of California, or second place in a struggle for that bit of laurel wreath. Miss Ratcliff is a university girl, prominent in the class of '05 in various ways, as a Sorority member, as an amateur actress and as a mighty clever and skilful tennis player. Her father is Rev. Walter H. Ratcliff, of 1643 Euclid avenue, an English clergyman. The daughter is admired for her beauty and for other gifts, not the least of which is a laughing willingness to use her full name—Ethel Bridget Ratcliff—whenever the proper set of circumstances call for the sounding of the names in triplicate.

It appeared thus when Miss Ratcliff was one of the "three little maids" in the Pythian society's production of "The Mikado" last winter, and there was applause, sotto voce, for the girl with the Irish cognomen as the center piece of her initial.

On the tennis court next Tuesday Miss Ratcliff is to meet Miss Barla Van Vleet, of the Golden Gate Tennis Club, in the finals for the women's championship. These two players easily defeated all others last Friday, and Miss Ratcliff was so victorious in the preliminaries that she easily gained that she is expected to triumph on Tuesday, against her competitor from across the bay.

LOT OF USELESS THINKING.
"Your little birdie has been very, very ill," she wrote to the young man. "It is some sort of nervous trouble, and the doctors said I must have perfect rest, and quiet, and that I must think of nothing. And all the time, dear Gussie, I thought constantly of you."

The young man read it over, and then read it through very slowly, and put it in his pocket, and went out under the silent stars, and kept thinking and thinking, and thinking—London Tit Bits.

HISTORY OF THE CHURCH IN ELMHURST ITEMS

Surprise Party is Given—News Notes.

REV. P. C. MACFARLANE.

Rev. P. C. Macfarlane Introduces Novel and Dramatic Subject to His Congregation.

ALAMEDA, July 3.—The Rev. P. C. Macfarlane, pastor of the Christian Church, at the corner of San Jose and Park avenues, has introduced a decided novelty into the pulpit in the shape of a series of dramatic sermons on the life of the church in the second century. The style is that of dramatic narrative, in which the characters very largely tell their own story. The sermons are constructed like the act of a play, with scene, plot and dialogue, and closing with a climax. Mr. Macfarlane assumes the roles of the various characters in the narrative. He was formerly a newspaper man and short story writer.

Mr. Macfarlane, who has been pastor of the Christian Church for close on three years, has exhibited considerable dramatic and literary ability, and his novel sermons have attracted widespread attention. He has received an offer from the Christian Century Publishing Company to publish the sermons in book form, the publishers predicting that the story will become as famous as "Quo Vadis."

Euthanasia, a Christian youth, is the hero of the narrative, and he is brought through the troublous time of the early church, suffering persecution for his faith. The arena scene, the sermon which is to close the series, is said to be a triumph of dramatic literature.

The story last evening recounted an incident at the Lactarian Column in Rome in the year A. D. 117, when Crassus, the Tribune of Rome, abandoned his infant daughter. She was rescued and brought up among the Christians, later being restored to her mother, the mad Lucretia.

JAP WANTS A JOB.

ALAMEDA, July 3.—Chief of Police John Conrad will not have to engage an instructor in jiu jitsu for the members of his police force, providing that the City Trustees look with favor upon the request of one of the diminutive athletes of Alameda's Japanese colony. Fired with the victories of his countrymen over the Russians, an Alameda Jap signifies that he is willing to quench the obnoxious inebriate, maim the wife-beater or spank the mischievous small boy, and all for the small sum of $80 a month.

Should the City Trustees appoint the Jap on the force, the City Prison, so one of the police officials says, will be fitted with the first aid to the prisoners injured in order that the prisoners of the diminutive son of the Mikado may be resuscitated after being haled to the lock-up with the persuasion of jiu jitsu. There are 800 Japanese in Alameda, and they wanted to be represented in the municipal government. City Clerk James Gillogly has received the following communication, which is printed verbatim, with the addition of a sprinkling of punctuation marks:

ALAMEDA, June 27, 1905.
"Trustees Alameda City Hall—Mr. Trustees: Alameda have it—now 800 Japanese boy, very respectful Japanese man live in it, keep store, work house, garden, all good men Japanese."
"Please I ask if you make good Japanese man policeman Alameda. We make Japanese boy policeman, he very strong, make jiu jitsu, and Japanese Alameda, 800, like it very much. Thank you please."
"Park Street."

PICNIC PARTY IN A WRECK

CHICAGO, July 3.—With a crash of breaking woodwork and the cries of its thirty passengers, an omnibus containing a picnic party has been upset by a trolley car at Elston and Fullerton avenues. Five persons in the omnibus were injured and the remaining 25 were severely shaken up. The vehicle was wrecked.

None of the passengers on the car was injured, although they were shaken by the collision. The front of the car was battered in.

At the time of the accident the car was running rapidly and could not be stopped in time to let the omnibus clear the crossing.

A woman can't live without love. That is why so many of them seek divorce.

ELMHURST, July 3.—William Reichert of Moss avenue was the host at a pleasant party of his friends last Saturday evening. The guests met at 7 o'clock and proceeded in a body to the home of the young man, taking him and his family completely by surprise.

An adequate quantity of provisions were brought by the visitors to prepare a bountiful feast, which was served at 11 o'clock.

Until the supper the hours were pleasantly passed in dancing and playing games of cards. The party broke up at midnight, every one having had a very enjoyable evening.

ENTERTAINMENTS.
Miss Hattie Noschka gave a musical recital at the Elmhurst Hotel last week, assisted by several of her friends. The hostess rendered several pretty selections on the piano, while her assistants sang vocal numbers.

Mrs. Lucy Armstrong, Mrs. David Jackson, W. H. Higgins and H. B. Arlett were winners at the whist tournament of the Hayseed Whist Club last week. The party took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Olson on Orchard avenue.

The Rev. Charles D. Merrill of Berkeley preached yesterday morning at the Protestant Church here in the absence of Rev. E. E. Clark, the pastor, who is away on his vacation trip.

ELMHURST ITEMS.
Small boys here began Saturday activities to celebrate the nation's birthday. Small but powerful torpedoes were laid at distances of one yard apart along the rails of the street car line. C. W. Fischer was the motorman to drive his car along the two blocks of explosives. Seventy-eight torpedoes were laid and every one did its duty.

Chester Wood, the mail clerk on the street car line, has been displaying to his friends an old newspaper in his possession. It was printed on January 4, 1860. The principal item in it is the report of the death of George Washington, who had passed away twenty-one days previously.

Mrs. M. C. Smith of San Anselmo is visiting her daughter, Mrs. L. N. B. Smith of Jones avenue.

James Clinton is having George W. Hook build a five-room cottage on Sunnyside street.

Mrs. J. Jones returned Friday from a week's trip to Sonoma county. V. H. Park has been ill the past week. R. E. Beckwith has returned to Elmhurst after two months in Fresno.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Peterson of Spiritwood, North Dakota, were here last week examining real estate.

STILL FURNISH WATER TO TOWN OF HAYWARDS.

Company Fails to Carry Out Threat—Reason Why.

HAYWARDS, July 3.—As was expected, the San Lorenzo Water Company did not make good its threat to turn off the water supply Saturday at noon. A determined effort had been made by the company to have the Town Trustees raise the water rates last April, but the city fathers refused to accede to the proposal.

A notice was sent to every member of the board by the Water Company, stating that the stop cock would be turned June 30 if the price asked was not paid.

Ed Warren, the local superintendent of the company said today in regard to the matter:

"I received instructions from the president Saturday just before noon not to order the supply cut off, but to defer action until next Wednesday. We do not want anything to happen in this manner while the Fourth of July celebration is attracting so much attention to it."

"However, we think that we have the right in the matter. The plan is not making anything to the company, nor for the investors who own the wells. During the last fiscal year the earnings amounted to $2400 on an investment of $63,000. The net receipts were in the neighborhood of $9000, and the expenses and repairs amounted to $500."

"This is not fair to the company, nor to the promoters. For fourteen years the company has been endeavoring to pay the owners of the wells five per cent on their investments. In that time we ran behind $20,000, which the company is still trying to make up. Two years ago the town turned over to the creditors the entire system of pipes as a partial payment of the debt."

"We want the Trustees to get a valuation of the plant, but this they refuse to do. When our agents address the board, the members pay no attention, but give us the merry ha-ha. We will take the matter into the courts yet, for stringent measures will be necessary to make the Trustees do the right thing. We're not trying to graft the town. We want only what's just and honest."

"Some months ago we offered to give the town the franchise and the business and let it run the affair to suit itself. They would not have it. They knew that they would lose money on the proposition, the same as we do, and refused the offer."

SHOW IS OPENED.

Jesse Woods, the chairman of the committee in charge of the poultry show, in connection with the celebration of the Fourth, opened the exhibition yesterday afternoon. There were over 500 chickens and nearly 200 pigeons. Exhibits came from all over the State, though principally from San Francisco.

Fifteen of the birds entered were prize winners in the St. Louis Exposition last year.

Over 300 ribbons are to be given as prizes to the owners of the birds. Three Fourth of July ribbons will be given in each class. No medals or money prizes are offered.

Henry Berran of San Jose, who was judge in the poultry department in St. Louis, has been selected to award the ribbons.

The committee was allowed the sum of $150 by the general committee to pay the expenses of the exhibition, which is held in the Haywards Opera House. All this money will be spent before the affair is over.

IRRIGATION MIRACLES

Bulletin Written by Expert at the State University

BERKELEY, July 3.—Experiments in irrigation of the Agricultural College for the year 1905 is the subject of a lengthy bulletin written by Professor Samuel Fortier and printed by the Department of Agriculture at Washington that was received today. According to Professor Fortier the irrigation work which is of most interest and importance is that to determine the effects of evaporation on surface land, shallow furrows and deep furrows. Experiments have been conducted at the Pomona station, where soil from various parts of Southern California were treated by the various methods used by farmers in their irrigation, the result going to prove that surface flooding is most wasteful and that deep furrows conserve much more water than do shallow furrows.

Experiments have been carried on at Berkeley to determine the effect of temperature on the rate of evaporation. The amount of evaporation was shown to be largely dependent on the temperature of the water. The effect of water on cereals in well-watered soils of the San Joaquin Valley has been tried. The application of sixteen inches of water increased the yield of barley from nine to twenty-two bushels per acre. In a wheat field water produced only a yield of ten bushels per acre, and sixteen inches of water increased the yield to thirty-eight bushels. An investigation into the value of irrigation in fruit orchards showed that the quantity of fruit increased where irrigation was practiced and that the quality was superior. Hundreds of growers contributed testimony to this effect. Alleged injuries to fruits and vines by irrigation was found to be due to errors in irrigation and not to irrigation itself.

One of the most important branches of work planned by the irrigation staff at the University is the study of the effect of water on the rate of evaporation. BRIEFES.

Rev. C. H. Wood of Virginia preached to a large and attentive audience yesterday at the Congregational church. He is spending the summer with his friends in Haywards.

Miss Lena Hardey of the local patrol of Native Daughters was appointed one of the committees in the Grand Parlor at the recent convention.

After competing with 300 other anxious for the position, Newton Jones of this place won out and secured an appointment in the Weather Bureau office in Reno, Nevada. Miss Lillian Garna of one of the Haywards judges, is suffering from a broken collar bone, the result of an accident.

Dr. F. F. Reynolds has received the appointment of Deputy Grand

Chief Ranger in the Foresters' lodge. Today the family of Rev. Hamilton Lee, the new rector of the Episcopal church here, moves to Haywards from Berkeley.

William Zambresky, the Deputy County Clerk, is to leave Wednesday or Thursday for Adams Springs for a good rest. His duties as secretary of the Fourth of July committee, and chairman of the board of the National Daughters have kept him busy during the earlier part of his vacation, which began last week.

Principal Gamble the principal of the High School here, has been re-elected a member of the County Board of Education.

LIBERALS LOSE AT ELECTION

NEW YORK, July 3.—The municipal elections in New York City today after a week's active campaigning, saw a cable dispatch from that city published today in the Herald. The Liberals were badly divided and the Conservatives and the Moderates made a firm union, the result being the defeat of the Liberals.

Much interest was shown, as the Clericals, for the first time since 1870, went generally to the polls. The result of the election, many priests also took advantage of the recent encyclical of the Pope, which had been in force since 1871, and abstained from participation in the elections.

Seventeen thousand electors voted. It is likely that the Duke Countess of the Moderate party will be elected Mayor. Most of the newspapers deplored the Liberal defeat through divisions.

Signor Titoni, Minister for Foreign Affairs, was elected to represent Rome in the provincial council.

BANK OFFICIAL PASSES AWAY

NEW YORK, July 3.—Edward S. Campbell, president of the National Newark Banking Company, and one of the best known financial men in New Jersey, is dead at Lake George, N. Y., where he was recuperating from illness. He was receiver of the Middlesex County Bank, which was wrecked several years ago by defalcations of its cashier. Mr. Campbell was 55 years old.

"STEEPLE JACK" DIES FROM FALL

NEW YORK, July 3.—John Moffett, known throughout the country as "Steeple Jack," who had climbed many steeples and stacks without accident, is dead from a fall on a staircase. He was 32 years old and came here from San Francisco about a year ago.

HAYWARDS TO CELEBRATE. GREED, GOLD AND GRAFT. MINISTERS' SUBJECT.

GEORGE A. OAKES, CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMITTEE ON ADVANCING THE HAYWARDS CELEBRATION.

HAYWARDS, July 3.—Plans are complete for the great parade in this city tomorrow. In the evening there will be fireworks and a general good time. The committees have done excellent work in planning for the big celebration.

CITIZEN EXPLAINS WRETCH CAPTURED

Contractor Fears Police Take an Offender Into Custody.

BERKELEY, July 3.—In connection with the proposal of the improvement club's conference committee to investigate the action of the Board of Education in awarding the contract to construct four new rooms at one bid was submitted, "has come a statement from Contractor W. A. Redding, who says that more than one bid was offered. He declares that he submitted a bid, which was rejected."

The improvement club men thought it strange that but one bid should have been received by the board, and this one bid less than the estimate of $10,000 for the work, which the board had made before advertising for bids. Mr. Redding believes that his statement clears up the matter and exposes a mistake of the improvement club citizens.

At the last meeting of the conference committee a communication was read from George S. Brown regarding the establishment of an electric sub-station in Berkeley. The letter reads:

"In accordance with the instructions of the committee the writer, acting as representative of one, called at the office of the California Gas and Electric Company, and had an interview with Mr. Britton, relative to the matter of electric service for the town of Berkeley."

Upon first the matter of a sub-station, Mr. Britton informed the writer that although there was a certain amount of overcrowding in the Oakland sub-station, this station has power which in the case of trouble on the high tension can be thrown in with little delay, minimizing the trouble. Owing, however, to the overload on the Oakland station, Mr. Britton proposed that a considerable electric sub-station be established near the Temescal station, of 3000 kilowatt capacity, which will be largely used as a source of supply for the current used in Berkeley.

These improvements should improve the service materially and it is the writer's understanding that work will be pushed to completion as soon as practicable.

TO PREVENT INTERRUPTIONS.

"Mr. Britton seemed interested in the fact that there sometimes occur interruptions of service on the lighting amounting to some minutes' duration, and there is room for the suspicion that he is not always fully informed by his subordinates of these occurrences. It was seen that these interruptions are due principally to faults in station manipulation and Mr. Britton assures the writer that he will look into the matter with a view to preventing recurrence of this carelessness on the part of the operatives."

POWER SERVICE.

"Regarding the matter of power service, the writer was informed that the corporation is only too glad to run lines to such places as require power in considerable quantities, that they now have a line to the Judson Iron Works, and are running another to Richmond, from which power can be taken, whenever needed through West Berkeley, being taken to the motor factory of cost to the consumer, in considerable power is required and involving but a small expense in case of small motors being used. It is the impression of the writer that no obstacles will be encountered by any one desirous of taking power from the S. F. G. & E. Co., but that on the contrary, every inducement will be offered, at this is the logical course for such a concern to pursue."

TO CHANGE POSTOFFICE

WASHINGTON, July 3.—On August 1st, the designation of the Golden Gate station of the Oakland postoffice will be changed to Station C, and its location to 1111 Thirty-sixth street. Two new stations will be established, as follows: No. 44, San Pablo Avenue and Fifty-ninth street, No. 15, at 4104 Piedmont Avenue.

Craze For Wealth It Is Hard to Find Honest Men.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Rev. David G. Wylie, preaching last night on "National Degeneracy," in the Scotch Presbyterian Church, said:

"Greed for gold is almost universal in America. To use an offensive term, 'graft' seems everywhere. This craze for wealth leads to cheating, stealing, lying and many immoral features in business life. Here in New York more have tarnished their names by the manner in which they have dealt with the trusts of a great institution. Men, well known, respected, high in commercial and social station have turned into their hands, and it has been taken to the quick. We have had an exhibition of 'high finance' pushed to the limit. We need to imitate the municipal authorities of Glasgow in the bank scandal, where directors of high standing were sent behind prison bars. The trial and conviction of guilty men who have not scrupled to use wrongfully other people's money would do much to restore confidence in the majesty of law; for law ought to deal in the same manner with rich and poor."

Even at the risk of being called sensational, I would from this Christian pulp that the President of the United States, in his dealing with grasping corporations, and ex-President Cleveland, Paul Morton, State Superintendent of Insurance, Hendricks, Attorney General, Mayor, District Attorney Jerome have the opportunity of their lives to serve hundreds of thousands of their fellow citizens by fighting a great wrong."

"People are no longer surprised at dishonesty in high places. They have come to look upon it as a matter of course and the phrase 'tainted money' has become a by-word and a jest. We are accustomed to breaches of trust on the part of officeholders and financiers, but when we see these men show a disposition even to use judges of the Supreme Court to further their selfish ends it is time to call a halt."

"We see, too, Judges hemming and having over the cases of these powerful wrongdoers, instead of treating them as they deserve. Although we may not realize it, this is gradually becoming a pagan nation. These evils are permitted to exist because most men do not perform their full civic duty."

"Citizens should not be strict party men. They should insist upon honest men and honest measures, and vote for them without regard to partisan bias."

NEW YORK, July 3.—Addressing the Holy Name Society in the Church of the Nativity, Brooklyn, Rev. J. J. Donlon said, among other things:

"In the business world it is difficult to find men who are honest according to the strict interpretation of the word. Within the past few months we have seen financiers to whom the people had unhesitatingly entrusted their money exposed as knaves."
